

ALABAMA BEATS GEORGIA, 13 TO 0, FOR TITLE; FLORIDA ROUTS TECH; OGLETHORPE BEATEN

JACKETS CRUSHED UNDER AVALANCHE OF BLUE SCORES

Eight Touchdowns to One, 55 to 7, Is Final Count in Florida's First Victory.

SAULS AND BETHEA HOLD FIELD DAY

Tech Scores First and Looks Better Than at Any Time This Season in Offensive Play.

BY RALPH MCGILL.
Florida's blue-clad football horde put to utter rout the forces from Georgia Tech Thursday afternoon at Grant field, scoring an impressive 55-to-7 victory.

It was the worst defeat suffered by a Georgia Tech eleven in near a quarter of a century of football. It was the first victory Florida had ever scored in seven years of hammering at Tech's defenses.

All the bitterness and football misery piled up in the seven years were wiped out in one mighty, sweeping attack that Tech could make but feeble gestures at stopping.

It was Thanksgiving for Florida and some thousand or more supporters who rode in on the wings of the cold wave. It was just Thursday for the Jackets. Not since Vanderbilt won by 56 points in 1907 had a Jacket team been so humiliated.

Play of the Jackets was a severe disappointment to their coaches. Their exhibition was, in a sense, unfair to the coaches who had developed the team for the game only to see them forget all they had shown in scrimmage and go into very small pieces indeed. This 1930 team does not seem to be able to retain.

Florida reached a tremendous peak for the game. She spotted the Jackets one touchdown and then came surging back to wreck complete revenge for past defeats. Nothing the Florida eleven did was wrong. Everything Tech tried after the first quarter was wrong as well as futile.

The better team won. Florida played magnificent football and Tech joined in acclaiming them one of the best teams in Dixie.

Tech threw everything she had into the first quarter. The Jackets gambled desperately and played in the same reckless fashion.

It was a driving assault that carried them 48 yards to one touchdown. They were leading 7 to 0 as the first quarter closed. The same driving attack took them to the Georgia 8-yard line in the second quarter with the score 7 to 0 in their favor.

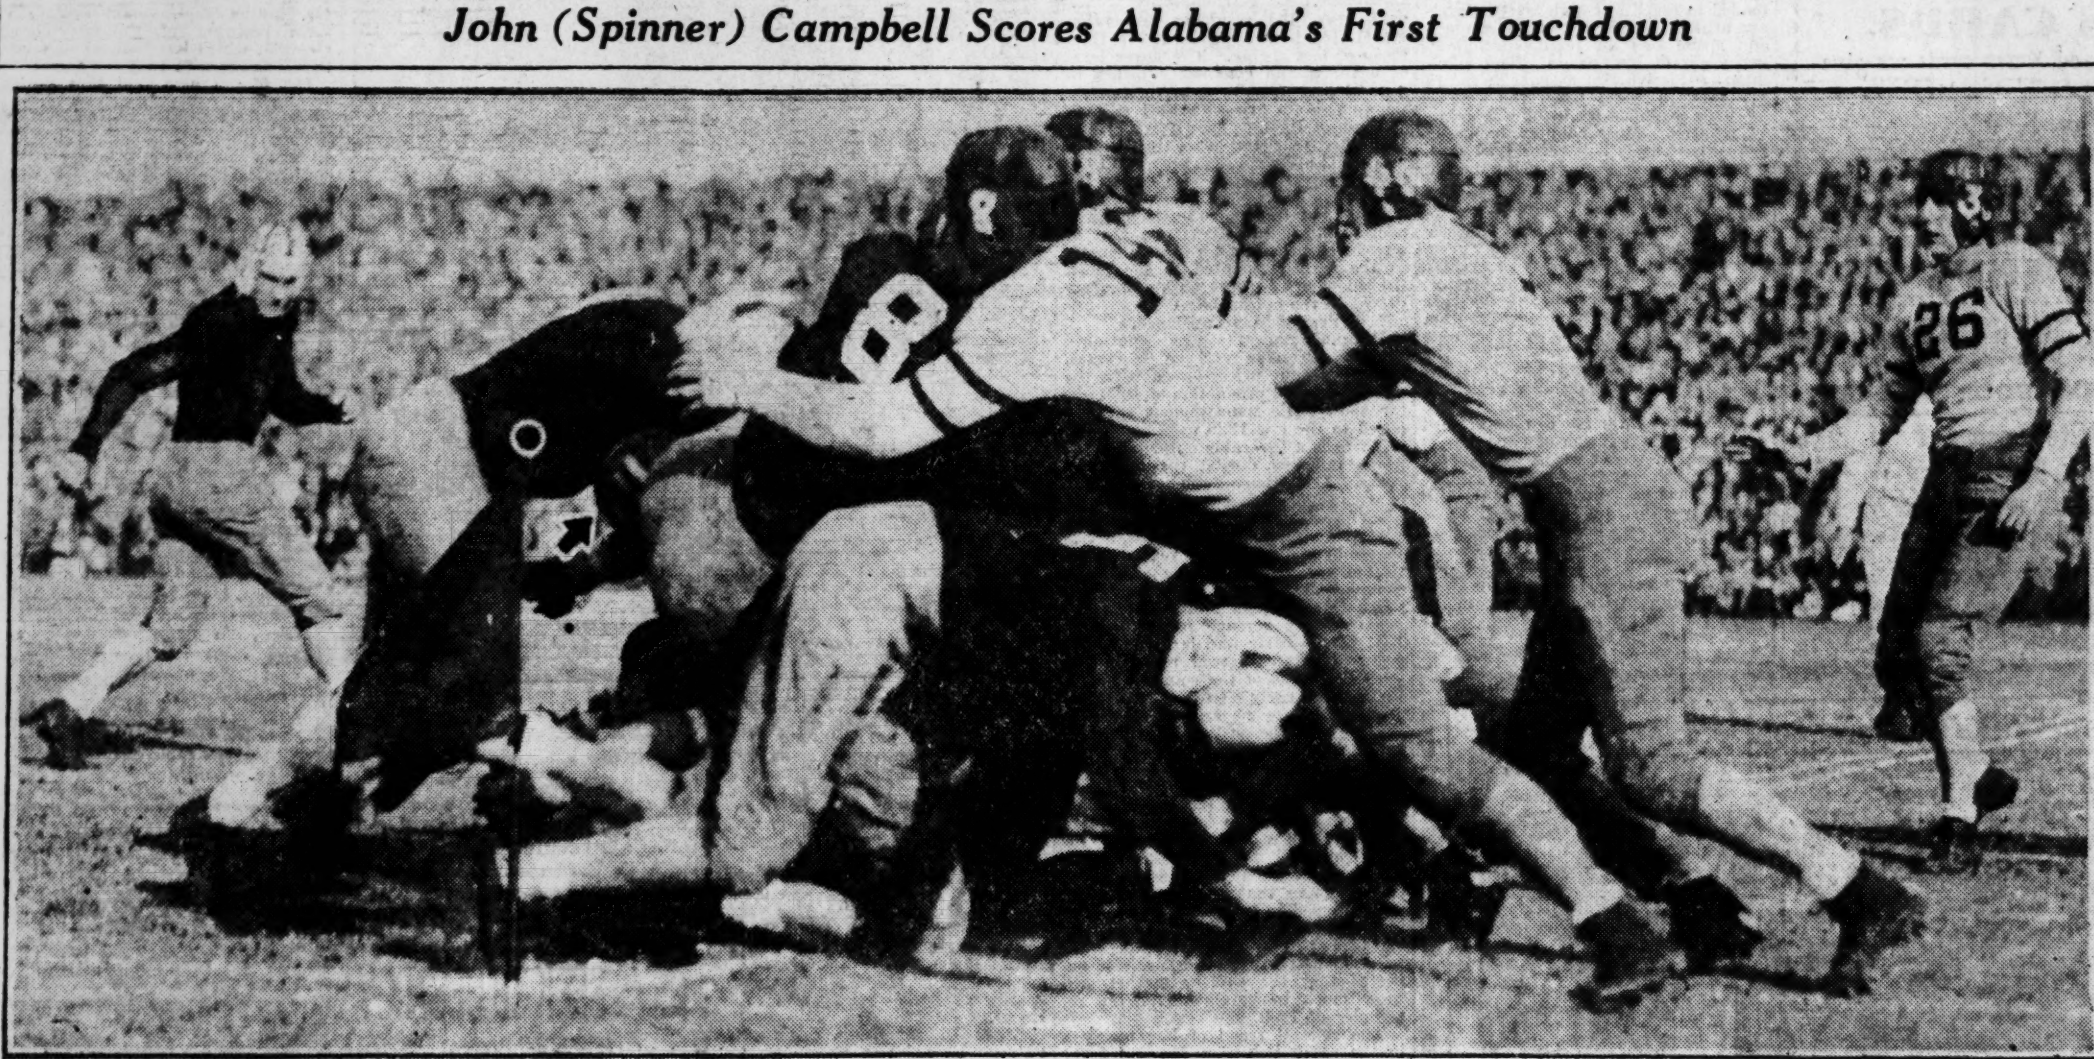

And there the fight went out. A fumbled ball squirmed from Pat Barron's arms as he was tackled at Florida's 8-yard line. Red Bethea, the mercury-headed, red-haired incarnation of Atilla the Hun, snatched it out of the air and raced 38 yards before he was pulled back.

That started the Blue Horde on its way. They never were checked again. The rolling wave of touchdowns inundated the Jackets in a very few minutes.

It was a curious sort of football game. It was the best offensive effort the Jackets have made all season.

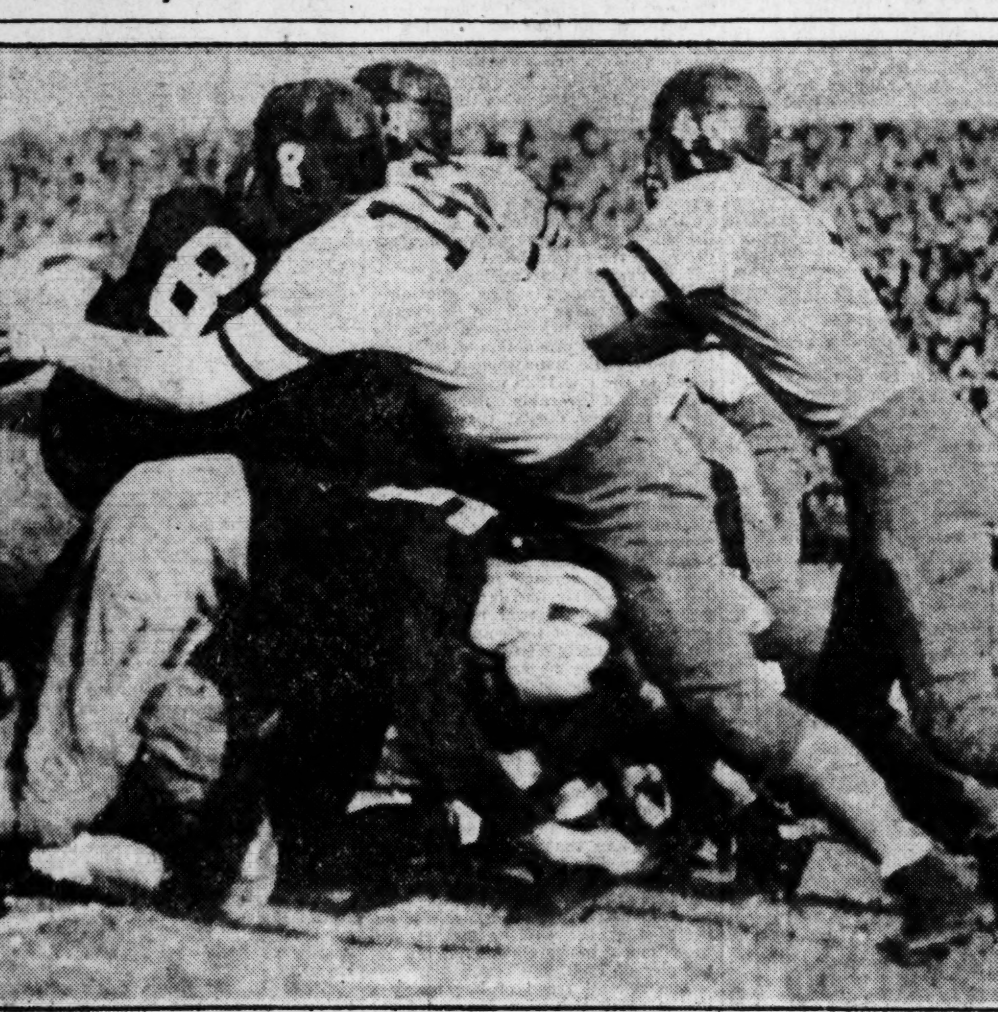

The statistics show that Georgia Tech made 11 first downs and Florida but 14.

They further show that Florida

KEY WILL CARRY COUNCIL CUT PLAN DIRECT TO VOTERS

Mayor-Elect Believes Success Is Assured; More Civic Leaders Indorse Slush.

Aroused by the "effort to steal the election on a referendum proposing to reduce wards from 13 to 6 and council from 39 to 18," Mayor-elect James L. Key, author of the plan, Thursday laid plans to "take the fight directly to the people of Atlanta," and will speak at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon to representatives of 70 civic organizations at the Chamber of Commerce building. Atlanta voters will pass on the proposal in the general election Wednesday.

On the heels of the charges, which Mr. Key declared Wednesday he had found, new friends rallied to the proposed cuts with the announcement of Frederick J. Paxson, president of the Atlanta Convention Bureau, former president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and for many years one of Atlanta's outstanding business men; Robert H. McCall, attorney, president of the Atlanta Inter-City Association; and M. R. Wilkinson, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

Wishbone of Pollard's Turkey Will Go West

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 27.—(AP)—A man in California wants the wishbone of Governor Pollard's Thanksgiving turkey, and the governor is going to send it to him.

Ben Wiegart, of Los Angeles, wrote to the governor apologizing for the "strange request" and explaining that he was making a collection of wishbones from fowl "owned and eaten by distinguished men."

Governor Pollard said turkey is on his menu today, and the wishbone will be sent as soon as it is available.

LOST CHILD'S BODY FOUND NEAR TOP OF SAND MOUNTAIN

Three-Year-Old Girl Discovered 3 Miles From Home; Death Believed Due to Exposure.

TRENTON, Ga., Nov. 27.—(UP)—The body of Opal Cochran, 3-year-old Trenton child who became lost while at play last Saturday, was found near the top of Sand Mountain at 3:15 this afternoon, Oscar West, a resident near by, reported to Sheriff Grover C. Tatum, of DaDe county.

She apparently died from exposure during the early part of the 123 hours she had been missing, West said he believed. There were no marks of violence on her body, just bramble scratches caused by wandering in the woods of the mountainside.

West told the sheriff, who immediately went to the mountain to bring down the body, that he just heard of the child's disappearance today, thought he would look for her, "and went right to the spot." He had been sick in bed at his home for a week, he said.

The spot where the body was found was about three miles from the home of M. W. Cochran, uncle of the child with whom she made her home following separation of her father and mother. Her mother lived on Sand Mountain.

Another flurry of snow for Atlanta and north Georgia Thursday appeared probable to the weatherman as he predicted that the mercury, which dipped to a shivering 23 early Thanksgiving Day, will creep up today until the skies clear again, probably this afternoon.

Not in several years has Atlanta had a colder day to eat turkey and eat the gridiron "clash" when the weather is so cold.

Hunters found it biting and many returned home after short excursions into nearby woods and fields, and morning, ordinarily one of the most popular holiday activities, drew but few from their firesides.

Sub-freezing temperatures were reported in all the border states and light local snows in western North Carolina.

UNSEASONABLE COLD HOLDS CENTRAL STATES IN GRIP

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Unseasonable cold spread over the central states today bringing death to a few, restricted holiday activities to many.

Some of the Thanksgiving Day football games were cancelled, while others were played in a dreary, cold atmosphere and the players were hindered by numb fingers and icy fields. Most of the players elected to remain home, eat the traditional turkey dinner and watch thermometers outside flirt with zero.

Temperatures were expected to be even lower tomorrow in the southern portions of Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, and to be slightly higher in the upper Mississippi and middle Missouri valleys.

Temperatures today were far below normal in the Great Lakes region and the Ohio valley, with zero readings as far south as Indianapolis and freezing as far as the Gulf of Mexico.

Chicagoans endured zero weather for the first time this season. The minimum registered by the weather bureau was four above, but other parts of the city and the suburbs experienced as low as six below. It was

Chattanooga Wins, 20 to 6, From Oglethorpe in Final Game of Year for Petrels

BY BILL CLIFT.
Sports Editor, Chattanooga Times.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 27.—(Special).—Chattanooga Moccasins, a mere football breeze in September but gaining velocity with every game, turned into a full-fledged, roaring tornado here today to sweep Oglethorpe off the field in one of the characteristic Thanksgiving struggles between the two, 20 to 6. Despite the bitter cold, a crowd of around 4,000 turned out for the twelfth renewal of this Turkey Day rivalry and was rewarded by a glorious spectacle of hard-played football.

After a scoreless first period the Moccasins struck early in the second, carrying the kickoff back for a touchdown on seven plays. The Moccasins again battered their way to the goal line before the half came. Chattanooga made its final marker in the last period.

Moccasins Start in Hurry.

Chattanooga threatened in the first few moments of the game when Raby sent a punt rolling to the Oglethorpe 6-yard line. The safety man signaled for a fair catch and then missed the ball. Anderson kicked from behind his own goal and Matussek carried the ball back to the 37-yard line. Trail sliced off 15 yards at tackle but a 15-yard penalty stopped the threat.

After the Oglethorpe punt, the Moccasins advanced from midfield on a 12-yard gain by Fariolletti and a pass, Raby to Gross, for 12 yards.

Another penalty stopped the advance. Chattanooga had worked down to the Bird 35-yard line again as the quarter ended.

Trail Scores Standing Up.

Trail started the bruising second period with a 15-yard dash which gave first down with another 15 to the goal. Fariolletti, in four plays, carried the ball to the 5-yard line. Trail went over tackle and crossed the last line without a hand being laid on him. Raby swept around end for the extra point and Chattanooga led, 7 to 0.

For the next three minutes the Oglethorpe offense shone in all its glory, indicating plenty of trouble for the Moccasins. But after the one touchdown thrust, the Birds folded up their ground gaining weapons and played a game of defense. Oglethorpe fumbled the kickoff and got only to their own 15-yard line. Then things happened.

Gilliland worked a spinner for 15 yards. Walker tossed to Anderson

Restaurateur To Claim Million, Forget Prison

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Louis A. Varga is bound for Venezuela today to claim his share in a fortune estimated at $1,000,000 and to forget three and one-half years in prison for a crime he did not commit.

Varga, a Chicago restaurateur, sailed yesterday to settle his father's estate, shared by him and three other children. Eighteen months ago he was paroled from Joliet, Ill., prison, and governor Louis Emmerson, of Illinois, recently granted him a pardon to restore his citizenship.

SOVIET PLOTTERS CONFESS GUILT, BLAMING GREED

None Asks Mercy as Spectacular Treason Trial Moves Swiftly To Close.

BY EUGENE LYONS.
MOSCOW, Nov. 27.—(UP)—All eight of the prominent Russian agents on trial for their lives on charges of plotting with foreign powers for an interventionist war against the soviet state, completed their confessions today as their treason trial moved rapidly toward its climax.

Greed and a lust for the luxuries of Russia under the czars were admitted by the prisoners. Not one of the aristocratic appearing men referred to ideals, which might have inspired them to plot against the government.

Instead, each told his story of the purported interventionist war backed by France and England and other lesser European powers, and each declared he had hoped to gain material welfare and ease from the change in the political structure in Russia.

They confessed their guilt one by one, telling the packed courtroom and the millions throughout the country listening in on the radio broadcast of the bizarre trial how they schemed with foreign officials and capitalists for the overthrow of the soviet government by a war of intervention.

No Mercy Asked.

None asked for mercy. The state has demanded the death penalty for each of the eight men, and few in Moscow or elsewhere in the soviet union believe the prisoners will be given a lighter sentence.

The cold manner in which they have admitted themselves to be purely self-seeking careerists, chiefly interested in the money they would get out of their scheme first, and the possibility of cabinet posts in the future government of which they dreamed is but one surprising, almost unbelievable phase of this strange trial.

Testimony today again involved France and England through charges leveled at French officials, the French general staff, and in England against officials and capitalists. The stories the prisoners related jibed in every detail, with each new witness adding some particular information with regard to his own peculiar phase of the purported plot. Each substantiated the other's tale, and each pleaded guilty.

The accused take an interest in the proceeding against them and in the tense, hostile faces in the jammed

ATLANTANS HURT IN ALABAMA CRASH

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Mrs. C. C. Sheffield, 1183 Cliff road, Atlanta; her daughter, Miss Jean Sheffield, and two University of Georgia students were injured in an automobile collision here late today.

The injured students are F. W. Owens, Anniston, Ala., and A. E. Young, Cedartown, Ga. Hospital attendants said Mrs. Sheffield suffered a possible fracture of the skull and was in a serious condition.

Miss Sheffield and the two students were cut and bruised. All were taken to a hospital.

INMAN TO DEMAND RUTHLESS SALARY CUTS FOR COUNTY

Twenty-Five Per Cent Reduction Proposed for All Fulton Officials by Commissioner.

A demand for a 25 per cent reduction in the salaries of all county officials, including the judges of the superior court, the criminal court of Atlanta and the municipal court, is to be made today by Commissioner Edward H. Inman, chairman of the finance committee of the county board, when the board meets to fix the salary schedule for 1931.

"The county is away in debt and economy must be practiced," Commissioner Inman said. "We must curtail all of our expenses, including the salaries for which the larger part of the county's outlay of funds now goes."

Commissioner Inman said that as far as he knew the commission fixed the salaries of all major county office holders with the exception of Solicitor General John A. Boykin of the superior court, Solicitor John McClelland of the city court, Judge Hugh M. Dorsey of the city court and Judge Garland Watkins of the juvenile court.

The salaries of the first three, fixed by the legislature and the salary of the juvenile court judge is fixed by the county's five superior court judges, who also appoint the juvenile judge.

"I think a salary of $9,000 a year is enough for county officials," Mr. Inman said. "With a 25 per cent reduction those now receiving $12,000 would get the $9,000 while others would be reduced accordingly."

The judges of the superior court, the clerk of the superior court, the tax collector, tax receiver, ordinary and others now are drawing the $12,000. Commissioner Walter B. Stewart Thursday night when informed of the Inman proposal said he believed the 25 per cent reduction was too much.

"A readjustment, which I think will be satisfactory will be effected at the meeting tomorrow," Commissioner Stewart said. "Mr. Inman's 25 per cent suggestion is entirely too much. He's just playing to the galleries."

Expecta Compromise.

Mr. Stewart added that he thought the situation would be worked out satisfactorily to the county officials, employees and to the public as well.

"The county wants to pay the right salaries," he said. "Although I always have thought county officials ought to be on a modified fee system we are forced by law to fix the salaries. I do not know just what salary I favor for the various officials but I think any announcement of a set proposal before the meeting is a bit premature."

Commissioners Stewart and Inman long have been on "opposite sides of the fence" politically.

Commissioner Paul S. Etheridge, chairman of the division of public works of the board, was confined to his home Thursday night by an attack of influenza and members of his family said it was doubtful if he would be able to come down town today.

Mr. Etheridge has been ailing for several days and went to bed on orders from his physician.

Other members of the commission have been reluctant to discuss the salary situation, though individually they have let it be known that they

MIGHTY TIDEMEN CRUSH BULLDOGS WITH GREAT LINE

Crimson Forwards Hold Georgia at Peak of Form; Looks to Coast for Opponent.

ROSE BOWL BID DEEMED CERTAIN

Cain, Sophomore Fullback, and Chandler Stage Spectacular Punting Duel; Campbell Stars.

BY ED DANFORTH.
Constitution Sports Editor.

GEORGIA LEGION FIELD, BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 27.—Alabama's surging Crimson Tide reached its peak of power this afternoon in Legion field and rolled over a fighting team of Georgia Bulldogs for a 13-to-0 victory. The Tide was driven to its limit of power to win, for the boys in the white jerseys of Athens dug deep into their store of courage and resourcefulness to battle the Red Elephants from start to finish.

The game was played under ideal weather conditions before a crowd of 28,000. Many thousands were here from Georgia to see the Bulldogs in their semi-final battle, the climax of the season, predominantly Alabama in sympathy, roared as the Tide swept on to victory.

It was one of the most melodramatic battles of the year in the south. Alabama rode proudly out of the stadium with a claim to the conference championship that defies argument. Georgia was the eighth conference opponent to be ground underneath the Castone chariot wheels. And indications were tonight that the Tide would bring to Alabama an invitation to play Washington State in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena New Year's Day.

The invitation was tentatively extended Alabama last week and the measure of victory today is considered as having made the invasion of the coast by the Tide positive. In fact, Washington State, the coast champions, had two scouts in the stands today looking for the Tide who expect New Year's at Pasadena.

From the maelstrom Georgia came out defeated but marked with the Red badge that courageous teams wear when they play their hearts out against a superior foe and force that forerunner to use every shell in his arsenal.

Tide Scores Early.

The great Red machine rolled to an early touchdown in the first period on a 53-yard drive in which Spinner Campbell, a chunky boy who runs all humped over and Harry Cain, a powerful sophomore fullback, carried the ball most of the way. The drive was climaxed by a short forward pass thrown by Cain, who chucks with his left hand. Tim McCall, the Tide's man receiver, was thrown on the 1-yard line. From there Campbell bucked it over on the first play, and missed the extra point.

From that moment until the waning minutes of the afternoon, the Bulldogs met the Tuscaloosa breakers with a viciously furious defense that shattered their best formations.

While Georgia could make little headway against the Red barbed wire entanglements, the permitted no more sustained marches through their own trenches.

The battle was a thrilling punting duel between Spurgeon Chandler, of Georgia, and Cain, of Alabama.

RETURNERS HELP.

Cain nudged his left foot against the right of Chandler and while Chandler had a bit the best of the shoe leather exchanges, the superior returning of Chandler kept the Tide on even terms or better.

It was a test of reserve strength in which Georgia could not but weaken.

In the fourth period the Bulldogs rallied their sagging lines for one last desperate offensive. Jack The Ripper Roberts snatched the Red forward pass that flew from Marion Dickens to Chandler for 41 yards. Only Campbell was near enough to catch Chandler and by a flying tackle

U. S. Report Gives Farmers Guide to Improve Incomes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(Special.)—As a basis on which southern farmers may plan next season's crop and live stock production to improve their incomes, an agricultural outlook report has been prepared by the bureau of agricultural economics of the United States department of agriculture and representatives of eleven southern states. The report summarizes the present and prospective conditions with respect to the principal southern crops and live stock. State reports dealing more with local conditions will be issued by the agricultural colleges and extension services of the southern states.

Both domestic and foreign demand for southern farm products are expected to improve next year as compared with the present situation. Especially in the textile industry, the present low level of prices of raw materials is expected to stimulate buying.

The credit outlook for southern farmers appears less favorable than a year ago, although the supply of credit for the marketing of the 1931 crops may be expected to be ample.

Serious curtailment of 1930 income will prevent many southern farmers from repaying the advances obtained during the 1930 crop season, and because of inability to provide satisfactory security, a larger percentage than usual of farm borrowers will be unable to obtain credit accommodation through the usual channels.

Reason for Decline.

The outstanding cause of the price decline in cotton during the last 18 months has been the worldwide business depression which reduced the demand for cotton. World consumption of American cotton was two million bales less in 1929-30 than in 1928-29. The small consumption of cotton in 1929-30 as compared with recent years left a world carry-over of American cotton on August 1, 1930, about 1,800,000 bales greater than on August 1, 1929. The current crop added to this carry-over gives a world supply of American cotton for the 1930-31 season of about 20,700,000 bales, which is 1,400,000 bales greater than for 1929, and 300,000 bales greater than the annual average supply for the five-year period, 1925 to 1929.

Cotton acreage in the United States increased rapidly following the World War, and in the last five years has tended to remain at high levels. Farmers usually reduce the cotton acreage and spend less for fertilizers following years of low prices. The maximum reduction in acreage was 15 per cent in 1927, when the volume of funds available for loans was greatly reduced. Most cotton banks in the cotton states will enter 1931 with a smaller volume of deposits than a year ago.

Lower Prices Probable.

If the present flue-cured tobacco acreage is maintained next year, prices to growers are likely to average lower than this year's prices because stocks will be increased and the rate of increase in cigarette consumption has slowed down. For the nine months, January to September, the sales of cigarette stamps exceeded those for the corresponding period in 1929 by less than 2 per cent.

Southern farmers are cautioned against over expansion of truck crops. Although in recent years the market for vegetables and miscellaneous perishables has been expanded to the full twelve months, the supply of those commodities appears to have kept steadily ahead of the consumer demand. During a period of steadily mounting acreage, growers have gradually encountered a falling off in average returns per acre.

If potato growers in the southern states carry out their intentions to increase acreage 10 to 15 per cent

RECONCILIATION OF BOOTH'S SEEN

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Commander Evangeline Booth motored to Huddersfield, Yorkshire, yesterday to lunch with the widow of her brother, General Bramwell Booth, and the late general's daughter, Commander Catherine Booth. This inspired publication of reports of a complete reconciliation between the American Salvation Army leader and the English branch of the family.

Commander Booth, asked to comment, said:

"There never has been any enmity between me and any members of my brother's family. It was a very happy, peaceful visit. They received me very graciously."

High Salvation Army officials, however, said that the visit was in fact "quite a reconciliation" as a marked coolness has been observed between Bramwell Booth's family and Evangeline Booth since she took the leadership in opposing his generalship.

Next year, the resulting production would put potato prices lower than those of last spring. The lower level of business and consumer prices in general does not warrant the expectations of potato prices in 1931 as high as those of 1930, as shown by the fact that this year the price in October was $1.02 although last year, with approximately the same size crops, the price was $1.35.

Sweet potato acreage in the south is usually increased following a year of low cotton prices, and a sharp increase in the acreage planted to the moist-fleshed type of sweet potatoes is expected in the cotton belt.

Peanut growers are cautioned against excessive acreage increases, because peanut prices—even with the greatly reduced production of 1930—so far show little improvement as compared with the low 1929 prices.

There is a favorable outlook for the peach industry during the next five years. Conditions seem to warrant expansion of acreage in sections where production and marketing conditions are advantageous, but new plantings should be made with due regard to desirable varieties, favorable sites, and should be made only by persons prepared to give them proper care.

Strawberry acreage for picking in 1931 in the early and late harvesting groups of states appear to be in line with the needs of the country, but in the second early and intermediate groups of states increases of acreage may be justified for harvest in 1932 and 1933.

The south is a region of deficient egg production and the total egg production is less than the consumption. The south offers to local poultrymen the benefit of a good home market for practically all the eggs that can be produced of such a quality and at such a price that they can compete with shipped in eggs. However, there is not much encouragement in the egg market until present storage stocks are reduced materially. Neither is it expected that the poultry market will show much improvement for the remainder of 1930.

The general trend of hog numbers in the south has been downward for many years, the principal reason being the lack of corn for feed. Lack of proper fences for keeping hogs from running at large, and scarcity of long term and intermediate credit which would enable farmers to buy such fencing, other equipment and breeding stock, are additional factors which have restricted hog production in the south.

Famed Viennese Prima Donna To Be Guest in Atlanta Home

LOTTE LEHMANN

Lotte Lehmann, soprano prima donna supreme of the Vienna opera, whose lovely voice and marvelous ability have won her the unstinted praise of critics and public alike in Vienna, Paris, Brussels, London, Chicago and other operatic centers, is coming to Atlanta.

The only disappointing thing about this story is that Miss Lehmann is not coming here to sing. Her visit is purely social in character. She will be the guest of Mrs. Robert Hecht, 25 Peachtree Battle avenue, the godmother of little Miss Mia Lotte Hecht.

Glenn Dillard Gunn, critic of the Chicago Herald and Examiner, after Miss Lehmann's debut with the Chicago Civic Opera as Sieglinde on October 28, last, classed her voice as at least equal to that of Elisabeth Rethberg. "This is a voice of heavenly beauty," he wrote, "a glorious, free and soaring tone, warm yet pure, dramatic, yet exquisitely lyric."

Miss Lehmann began her career in Hamburg, Germany. She has been the leading soprano prima donna in Vienna for about eight years and has been endowed with the title of a state singer by the president of the republic. She is the favorite soprano of Richard Strauss and is always chosen to create the soprano roles for his premieres. She was the first to sing German operas, after the war, in Paris and Brussels.

She is an officer in the Academie Francaise and has had high honors conferred on her by the king of Sweden. She sings every year at Covent Garden, London, and at the Salzburg Festival. During her last stay in England she was the guest of ex-king Manuel of Portugal, who himself a gifted pianist, accompanied her at some of her private concerts.

This famous singer is only able to stay in Atlanta for a few days. While she is here, however, something should be done to make her stay so memorable that she will remember it.

Every contract in order to return some April soon, and sing for us as guest artist during the annual season of grand opera. Can't someone do something about it? Whoever has any plans will have to hurry for she sails back to Europe on December 5 on the S. S. Europa, headed for Paris and the opera there.

DRYS SEEK TO DESTROY CONSTITUTION—BECK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—A call to industrial states to resist a move by the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Works to eliminate representation of aliens in reapportionment of the house as a means of retaining dry strength in agricultural states was issued today by Representative Beck, of Pennsylvania.

"While the purpose of the Methodist Board of Temperance is to sustain the falling edifice of prohibition," he said in a statement, "the movement has a deeper and more portentous significance."

He charged that the agricultural states had looked with concern on the growth of political power in the industrial regions, due to the shift in population to urban centers, and added the clear purpose of the move was to impair the growing power of the agricultural states. If they succeeded, he added, the country may look "for a further dissipation of public funds by socialistic measures."

"If the industrial states accept lying down the proposed destruction of their due representation in congress," Beck asserted, "then they need not hereafter complain if our government becomes as socialistic as soviet Russia."

"When the fanatical drys lobbied the eighteenth amendment into the constitution," Beck asserted, "they destroyed the fundamental basis of our government, namely, local self-government. Now they propose to reapportion political power among the states contrary to the express mandate of the constitution, as it has been uniformly interpreted from the very beginning of our government."

Beck, a former solicitor-general of the United States, was replying to a recent statement by Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the Methodist board, which urged that some 7,500,000 aliens be excluded from representation in the reapportionment count.

ARKANSAS WARNS OF BANK GOSSIP

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Walter E. Taylor, state banking commissioner, issued a warning today that persons circulating unfounded rumors concerning the financial standing or reputation of Arkansas banks will be prosecuted to the extent of the law.

The commissioner's statement added that unfounded rumors have been responsible for the troubles of many banks closed or suspended in Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky and other states in the past week or two.

An Arkansas law, enacted in 1917, makes it a misdemeanor to circulate rumors injurious to the reputation of state or national banks, he said. Violation is punishable by a maximum fine of $5,000 and jail sentence of three months to one year upon conviction.

FINAL RITES TODAY FOR R. M. CALLAWAY

Funeral services will be held from Spring Hill chapel at 11 o'clock this morning for R. M. Callaway, 64, president of the R. M. Callaway & Sons Co., who died Wednesday at his home, 1650 Ponce de Leon avenue. The Rev. Dr. L. R. Christie and J. Spole Lyons will conduct the service, and interment will be in West View cemetery.

Mr. Callaway, who was a native of Green River county, was the son of the late Rev. John S. Callaway, one of the most prominent Baptist ministers in central Georgia. He was recognized as one of the leading workers in church and community work. He was a prominent Mason, a member of the A. W. Jackson, William W. Reid, M. A. Sandifer, Fred H. Sand, Harry A. Alexander and Dr. P. M. Maynard.

Mr. Callaway is survived by his widow; a daughter, Mrs. C. B. Sanders; two sons, Rev. Frank Callaway, and Albert Callaway, Atlanta; three brothers, V. D. Wooten and John G. Callaway, and four sisters, Mrs. J. T. Waldron, Atlanta; Mrs. Ben Drake, Union Point, Ga.; Mrs. Tom Brown, Woodbury and Mrs. E. R. Brownell.

WILLIAMS TO ADDRESS NEGRO FARMERS' GROUP

TUSKEGEE, Ala., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Dr. Robert R. Moton, principal of Tuskegee Institute, announced today that Carl Williams, cotton member of the federal farm board, would address the Tuskegee Negro Farmers' Conference here December 3.

Dr. Moton announced that other speakers at the conference to consider a farming program for 1931 would include: J. C. Thompson, district agent of the federal farm board, and S. P. Storer, Alabama state commissioner of agriculture.

R. A. Stratford, of Moultrie, Ga., Dr. Moton said, would explain the farm program of Colquitt county, Georgia, which has brought prosperity to the farmers in that section.

Dr. Moton also said that agricultural, commercial, industrial and educational agencies would be represented at a special session on December 2, to consider plans for closer cooperation in a plan for farm improvement.

Plans are also being made for the entertainment of the farmers and other visitors.

While Winter Term Opens Students Making Money at the Southern Business College

Week Beginning December 1st Enrollment Period For the Winter Term.

Get ready for business! It's coming, because everybody says so.

The first enrollment period for the Winter term begins next week at the Southern Shortland and Business University. Enroll during the week and you will get a good start on your business course by the first of January.

Roger Rabson, the great business prognosticator, in writing about business conditions says to those who are unemployed, "Instead of waiting the present time, use this period of idleness in preparing for the future."

When enrolling for a full course at the Southern on Wednesday, a young man remarked: "I have been looking for a position for weeks without avail, but was advised by business men to take a thorough business course in a good school now in order to be ready when business prosperity arrives. In fact, I could have gotten a position now if I had known short-hand and typewriting."

The reputation the Southern's students have for great efficiency is spreading, for about thirty of the advanced pupils are just as busy as can be all the time, doing work in the Business Practice Department for outside firms, and they are actually making and receiving from $1.50 to $2.50 per day each while carrying on their regular school work.

This feature of the Southern is making it more popular than ever, as it's an indication that the pupils are so thoroughly trained that the business men want them to do their extra office work.

Again we say get ready now for the future. We may make our course pleasant, beautiful, exhilarating—or we may make it dismal, ugly, depressing. It all depends upon two things—our imagination and our will power. If, early enough in life, we are able to look into the future and plan to take advantage of its opportunities and avoid its dangers and disappointments, we may confidently expect a satisfactory reward. But preparation is of paramount importance. Start next Monday, or Tuesday or Wednesday. New catalog just out. Get one. Call, phone or write, L. W. Arnold, President, 86 Whitehall St., S. PUBLIC LANDS GROUP REACHES COMPROMISE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—

Transfer of the public domain to the states with the reservation by the government of sub-surface rights in known mineral areas will be the basis upon which final action will be taken in January by President Hoover's public lands committee.

The tentative plan decided upon by the committee represents a compromise between the positions of the government and the states.

Secretary Wilbur's original suggestion was that only surface rights be yielded, while representatives of many of the 11 public land states insisted that sub-surface rights be included in the transfer.

Members of the committee, which convened in Washington November 10, today were en route to their homes with the varied recommendations they will make to congress well crystallized and awaiting only a final decision.

Tentative proposals voted by the committee include:

That the president and secretary of the interior be given power to negotiate with the states, at the states' request, to provide for the transfer.

Flood control by the government where needed, under a policy similar to that pursued in the Mississippi valley.

Interstate agreements covering water control and elimination of theories of federal ownership and control, with the dismissal of all pending cases predicated upon such policies.

There were several other minor proposals.

Many of the major suggestions agreed upon by the committee were advocated by Nevada, in which lies nearly one-third of the remaining 178,969,446 acres of public domain.

The balance of the larger units is divided among Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah and Wyoming. Smaller acreage is in North and South Dakota, Florida, Arkansas, Nebraska, Minnesota and Washington.

Bandits "Give" Victims $20 for Thanksgiving

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 27.—(AP)—

One of the two bandits who held up the Dixie Shoe store in McKeesport last night almost forgot that today is Thanksgiving.

The bandits were about to leave with $105 they had removed from cash drawers and the safe, when one of them suddenly stopped at the door and addressed the manager and a clerk huddled in a corner.

"Say, tomorrow's Thanksgiving, ain't it?" he exclaimed.

The holdup victims gloomily admitted it was.

"Well, then," he apologized, "this won't do, you boys will have to have something to celebrate with."

He handed them $20 and disappeared.

CHILEAN NITRATE FIRM REORGANIZES

VALPARAISO, Chile, Nov. 27.—

(AP)—Reorganization of the wealthy Jugoslavain nitrate firm of Baburiza Petrinovic & Company was effected today. The company has holdings at Nuevo, Chile, and Prat, between Antofagasta and Tocopilla, and it is expected the mines will be reopened shortly.

The new company has been capitalized at 1,100,000 pounds (about $5,500,000) and will be called Compania Salitrera Baikan.

ALABAMA DEMOCRATS INVITE INVESTIGATION

"Regulars" Also Plan Double Primary Law for State.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 27.—

(AP)—Sub-committees were appointed at a "victory breakfast" of the state democratic executive committee here today to draw up a resolution urging Senator Gerald P. Nye to conduct an investigation into the Alabama general election November 4 and to draw up and submit a proposed double primary law for the state.

The breakfast was attended by Governor-elect B. M. Miller, John H. Bankhead, senator-elect, and Hugh D. Merrill, lieutenant governor-elect, in addition to many prominent democrats and members of the old and newly elected executive committees.

An outline of the proposed double primary law, read at the meeting, provided that the names of candidates in contested offices shall be alternated at the head of the ballot in various counties so as to distribute any advantage evenly throughout the state.

Pete B. Jarman was appointed chairman of the committee to draw up

Auto Fails To Miss Only Train on Line

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Nov. 27.—

(AP)—Only one train a day runs on the little branch line of the New York, Ontario & Western railroad near Westbrookville, but Edward Alben's automobile managed to get hit by it today.

The machine was wrecked. Alben, who lives in Delmont, Pa., was injured, probably not fatally.

WORLD OIL PACT SEEN BY BRITISHER

JERUSALEM, Nov. 27.—(AP)—

The possibility of an international agreement among oil companies regulating supply in different parts of the world was foreshadowed today in an address by Sir John Chancelor, high commissioner for Palestine. He spoke at the opening of the Shell Company's oil storage depot with a capacity of 7,000,000 gallons at Haifa.

Sir John said that he knew the wisest leaders in the oil industry were entertaining such an idea.

Haifa in such an event would likely become distribution center for the Mediterranean. The projected Haifa-Raglad railway will likely be extended to Teheran to connect Persia with the Mediterranean.

The resolution urging Senator Nye to come to Alabama, Clarence Mullins, Birmingham, and Robert Foster were the associate members named.

GERMANY'S DEBT SET AT $4,250,000,000

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—(AP)—

The federal statistical bureau published figures today indicating that Germany at the end of September owed foreign creditors on a balance of investments at home and abroad roughly 17,000,000,000 marks or about $4,250,000,000.

The bureau estimated that the rich owed abroad an aggregate of 26 to 27 billion marks of which 11 billion were represented by short term loans, nine billion three hundred million on long term loans, four billion on foreign investments and two billion in foreign owned realty. Against this German investments abroad totalled from nine to ten billion marks.

Not A Cheap Help But Safest For Deep Coughs

Creomulsion is not the cheapest help for coughs from colds. It is made to do the utmost, whatever the condition. It combines in one prescription seven of the world's best helps.

It is made in particular for coughs from colds which hang on. There is where one dare not risk a help of lesser value. But is it wise in any cough to trust a less effective help?

Creosote is in it, blended, emulsified and tasty. In an ideal way it presents the supreme help for soothing membranes and combating cold germs.

But there are also white pine tar, wild cherry bark, menthol, ipecac, etc. Each is best for some coughs. Here we combine all major helps to fight coughs to the limit from the start. Because of this expensive combination, Creomulsion costs a little more than lesser helps. The price is $1.25, but your druggist guarantees it. He returns your money if you ask for it.

A three-day cough is a danger signal. There you must use Creomulsion to be sure. But is it wise to trust any cough to lesser help when the utmost is at your command? You never know where a cough may lead. Treat it with the best men know.

Many Awards Announced At Winter Poultry Show

Uniform Excellence of Exhibits Draws Admiring Comment From Judges.

The Atlanta winter poultry show got into full stride Thanksgiving Day with valuable awards distributed among breeds pronounced by judges to be of a uniform excellence rarely found in any section of the country. Competition was so high that judgment in many cases was delayed, and the appended list of prize winners is incomplete, with further announcements to be given out this morning.

A notable feature of the show was the banquet given Thursday night on the Ansley hotel roof, at which approximately 200 guests, including H. A. Nourse, of St. Paul, Minn., president of the American Poultry Association, and Andrew M. Soule, president of the State College of Agriculture at Athens, were present.

Comprised in the poultry show are exhibits of champion rabbits and pigeons, including "Royal Master," undefeated champion buck rabbit, owned by B. H. Bellinger, of Atlanta, and valued at $50, which has been exhibited in rabbit shows all over the nation.

The Atlanta poultry show is headed by Robert N. Springfield, president of the Atlanta District Poultry Association, and contains exhibits sent by the State Rhode Island Red Club, the Atlanta Rabbit Breeders' Club, the Southern White Plymouth Rock Club, the Atlanta Pigeon Club and the Southeastern Bantam Association. Poultry judges are O. R. Ernst, A.

Blue Bloods of Barnyard Strut Stuff at Auditorium Exhibit

The cocks of the walk truly are having their day in Atlanta. More than 2,500 chickens, roosters, turkeys and geese are on display at the municipal auditorium at the Atlanta Winter Poultry, in addition to several hundred pigeons and rabbits, which are coming in for their share of attention from visitors at the exposition. Above are two of the prize winners and their fanciers. At the left is a first prize White Wyandotte cockerel, owned and bred by Dr. S. B. DuBoise, of Bishopville, S. C. Miss Frances

E. Wright and M. C. Wise, with a profound belief in the American people and the people of the world. There were never more difficult problems than today, yet we will meet them and they will be solved ultimately.

Americans never "had more to be grateful for as a nation than today," he said.

Mr. Rockefeller and his wife came home from a six-week motor tour of France and Spain, to observe the family custom of joining his father and other relatives in a Thanksgiving dinner at their Pocantico Hills estate. "We always arrange to be together on this day," he explained.

His trip convinced him that "France is, next to America, the most prosperous country in the world today."

"What most surprised me while abroad were the reports of disorders that Madrid is a modern, delightful, disturbances in Spain I should say in Madrid. The truth of the matter is well-ordered city. If there were any they were only temporary."

LIVED ON LIQUIDS

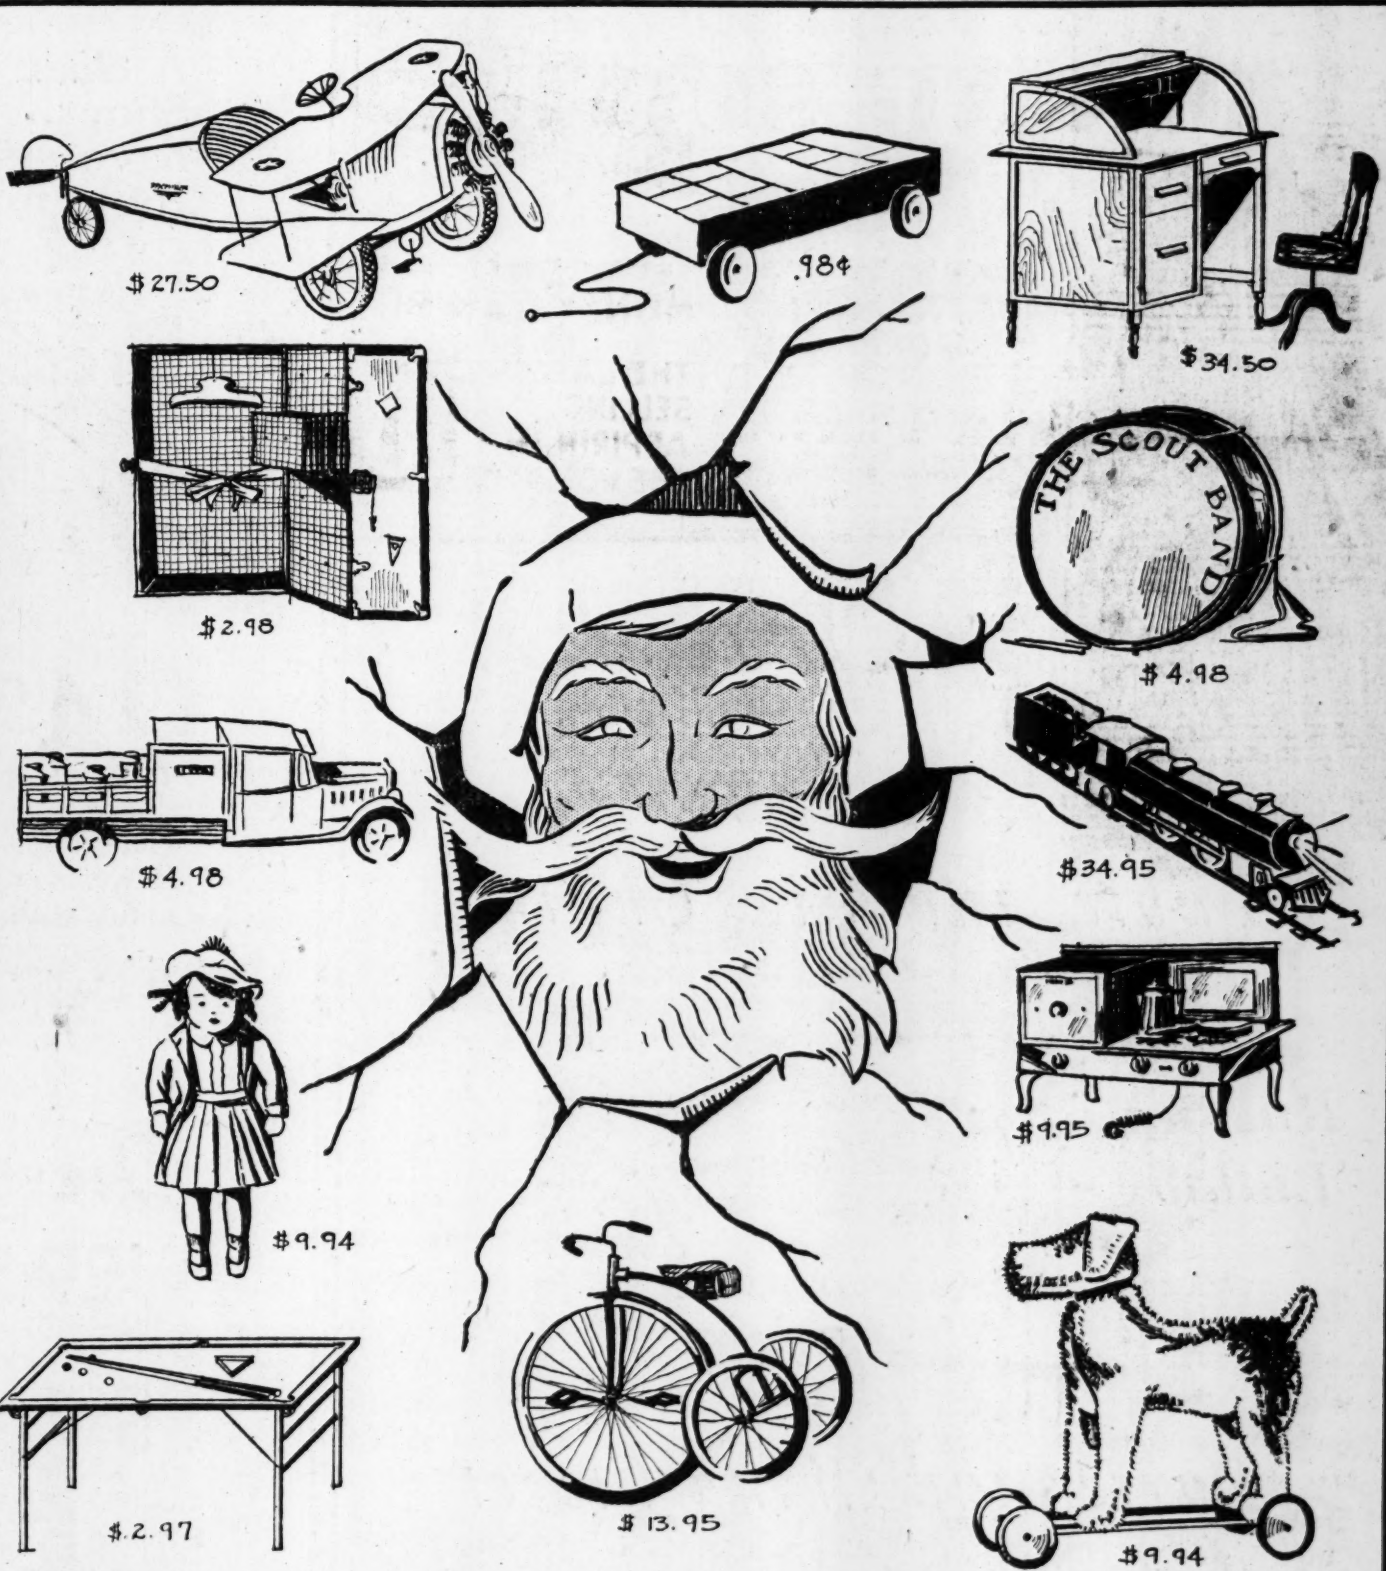

MRS. S. L. LANFORD tells how celebrated Sargon treatment scored remarkable victory for her after 7 years suffering.

"Seven years' failing health left me so I could eat only liquids. My blood seemed badly impoverished, I was weak, nervous, and anemic to the point of continual exhaustion. Treatments seemed useless. I finally started on Sargon and it completely restored me, and I've gained eight pounds. It's simply wonderful." Mrs. Lanford resides at 759 Oak St., S. W., Atlanta.

This endorsement of Sargon is only one of tens of thousands from grateful men and women who want other discouraged sufferers from stomach trouble to know of the medicine that has meant so much to them.

Anti-Aircraft Demonstration In Piedmont Park Tonight

Crack U. S. A. Regiment
Reaches City on Overland March From Maryland to Alabama.

Modern anti-aircraft guns ranging from the 30-caliber to a machine gun to the 105 mm., which can shoot to an altitude of 40,000 feet will be placed in Piedmont park today for inspection in connection with tonight's demonstration of the fine points of aerial warfare by the crack 69th central artillery regiment, U. S. A.

fit of 350 men, 80 trucks, 17 trailers and a dozen or more private cars passing through the post gate in 10 minutes. An hour later mobile kitchens had been fired and lunch was under way.

Bombing planes from Maxwell field probably will be seen in action tonight and Saturday night through the illumination of 800,000,000-candlepower reflectors mounted on high-speed motors in the park.

Have Marched 900 Miles.
Of possibly greater interest will be the work of the automatic "locaters," or range finders, which, in addition to detecting the presence of "enemy planes" directs the fire of the "archers," the army name for the anti-aircraft artillery.

More than 900 miles of the 1,000-mile journey from Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., where it was formed last February, had been covered by the 69th when it arrived at Camp Jesup from Griffin Thursday. The trip here from Maryland ended with towing only two of the more than 100 vehicles. These were crippled at Griffin. Only one man of the 250 suffered an injury on the trip and he is recuperating in an army hospital at Camp Jackson, S. C.

"The conditions of the men is remarkable," Colonel Taylor said, "in view of the hard labor, cold and rain and the dirt roads over which we have had to travel."

Inspection in Park.
The regiment completed, as one day's work, a march of 122 miles, 40 of which were over dirt roads, made necessary in order to find a bridge to accommodate safely a 10-ton truck hauling an 8-ton gun and pulling an 8-ton trailer load.

After demonstrations at Piedmont park tonight and Saturday night, the regiment will rest Sunday preparatory to beginning the last lap of the journey to Fort McClellan, near Anniston, Ala., where it will be located for three years. The 69th is one of seven anti-aircraft outfits in the service, three of which are stationed in foreign possessions.

Included in the personnel of the 69th is Sergeant Grubbs, with 23 years' service as a band sergeant, directing one of the crack brass organizations of the army. It will probably be heard at Atlanta during the three-day stop.

After the maneuvers tonight, officers of the 69th will be guests of the Atlanta chapter of the Reserve Officers' Association at a banquet at the Piedmont Driving Club and afterward they will attend the weekly "hop" at the fort.

BUSINESS COLLEGES HOLD MEETING HERE

The fifth annual convention of the Southern Accredited Business College Association, representing approximately 100 institutions extending from Virginia to Texas, will be held at the Piedmont hotel today and Saturday.

Business sessions will be held during the morning and afternoon, with the annual banquet being scheduled for tonight. B. H. Parrish, of Jonesboro, Ark., will preside as toastmaster at the banquet.

Visiting delegates to the convention will be welcomed to Atlanta by City Attorney James L. Mayson at the opening session this morning and the response will be given by Mr. Parrish, following which the president of the association, Robert E. Alverson, of Birmingham, Ala., will take charge.

Atlanta's appearance on the program include L. W. Arnold and S. P. Hatton. Mr. Arnold will speak on "Business School Advertising," and Mr. Hatton on "Reducing Expenses."

STORES BOBBED, TWO ARRESTED

Caught in the act of attempting to burglarize a store early Thursday morning by policemen who chased them for five blocks, two negroes were being held for the grand jury Thursday night on a charge of attempted burglary. They gave their names as Grover Allen and Lee Barber.

Patrolmen W. C. Duncan and Ira McDonald reported that they saw the negroes attempting to get in the Quality store at Solomon and Fraser streets.

A number of other burglaries were reported to the police Thursday, including:

A grocery store at 273 Boulevard, N. E., where $40 in cash was taken; another store at 244 Boulevard, S. E., where a quantity of merchandise was taken and stores at 134 Elliott street, St. Hilliard street and 380 Auburn avenue, where food and merchandise comprised the loot.

Thankful City Observes Quiet Day of Feasting

Thanksgiving was one of the quietest holidays ever recorded on police dockets in a long time, according to Captain Grover C. Fain, late Thursday afternoon, who expressed the opinion that Atlantans for the most part must have stayed at home and partaken of heavy dinners.

Not even the usual holiday automobile accidents marred the day. Grady hospital reports showed. Only a few accidents were reported, all of them of a minor nature.

All during the day Atlantans observed the national holiday in the most conservative manner, in keeping with the spirit of the tradition set by the group of Pilgrims, and nowhere, perhaps, was a greater degree of devotion shown than in this city, where virtually every church kept open doors for Thanksgiving services.

Nor could the day itself have been better. Atlanta, usually without snow on the truly American holiday, was without it Thursday, but the air was crisp and appetites keen. Noisy dinners, fond turkey, cranberry sauce and all the trimmings on the table, and a fortunate community ready to partake of the season's blessings.

One of the most outstanding features of this year's Thanksgiving was the service rendered by the Community Kitchen, which served food estimated to take care of the needs of at least 1,000 families. A special menu was provided on the day of all days consisting of stew, soup, vegetables, milk, coffee, cocoa and bread.

CANADA WILL DEPORT CENTRAL EUROPEANS

CALGARY, Alta., Nov. 27.—(P)—The mayor and the minister of immigration decided today upon wholesale deportation of central Europeans as an unemployment relief measure.

Central Europeans who are single, unemployed and who are being benefited by the city's unemployment relief scheme will be deported immediately, the officials decided.

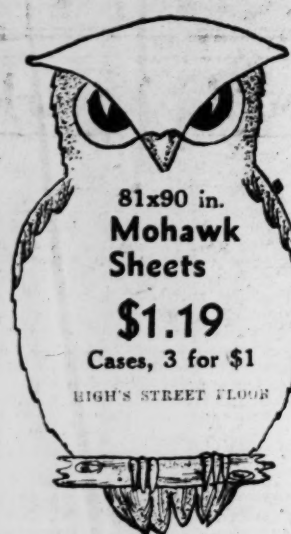

Between 250 and 300 aliens will be affected.

Nobel Peace Prize for 1929 Awarded to Frank Kellogg

Former American Secretary of State Given Coveted Honor by Scandinavian Group.

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Frank B. Kellogg, former American secretary of state, today was awarded the Nobel peace prize for 1929. Mr. Kellogg was elected a judge of the World Court last September, after a distinguished career in American statecraft.

His name was mentioned for the Nobel prize sometime ago in connection with his activities in creating the Kellogg-Briand peace pact.

The prize has been awarded to four other Americans, Theodore Roosevelt in 1906, Elihu Root in 1912, Woodrow Wilson in 1919, and Ambassador Charles G. Dawes in 1925.

Mr. Kellogg thus becomes the second American to win a Nobel prize this year. Sinclair Lewis recently received the Nobel award in literature for 1930 for his novel "Babbalanja."

The peace prize for 1930 was awarded to Dr. Nathan Soderblom, archbishop of Upsala and president of the University of Upsala since 1914.

The Swedish prime minister was formally nominated for the prize nearly a year ago by a group of Swedish parliamentarians, and his name has since been endorsed by similar groups in Norway, England, France, Germany, Switzerland and Hungary.

Dr. Soderblom is identified with work for international peace through a union of churches. Five years ago he was the principal organizer of the Christian Unity conference held at Stockholm. He visited the United States in 1924.

No peace prize has been awarded since 1928, but the prize for that year cannot be awarded now because the statutes of the Nobel Foundation provide that a prize reserved for more than one year reverts to the general fund of the foundation.

The name of Frank B. Kellogg, recipient of the Nobel peace prize for 1929, is inseparably linked with the treaty by which approximately 50 nations agreed to abandon warfare as an instrument of national policy.

As secretary of state in the Coolidge administration, Kellogg successfully carried the proposal for such a pact through the delicate process of international negotiation and signed it on behalf of the United States in ceremonies at Paris.

The idea of the treaty came from a suggestion by Foreign Minister Briand of France that his nation and the United States enter into a bi-lateral agreement to insure a lasting peace between them.

Kellogg expanded this proposal to make it include virtually all the nations of the earth, successfully overcoming opposition which arose in negotiating the pact and in the senate's debate on ratification.

The treaty was promulgated by President Hoover on July 24, 1929, with impressive ceremonies attended by Kellogg, former President Coolidge and the diplomatic representatives of all the signatory and adhering nations except Russia.

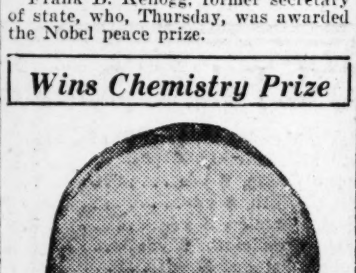

The pact had already been invoked by Secretary Stimson, Kellogg's successor, to relieve a vexing situation which threatened to lead to a war between Soviet Russia and China.

Kellogg was born at Potsdam, N. Y., December 22, 1856. A few years later his parents moved to Minnesota, and he was reared on a farm there.

Frank B. Kellogg, former secretary of state, who, Thursday, was awarded the Nobel peace prize.

Wins Chemistry Prize

Professor Hans Fischer, of the Technical High school of Munich, Germany, has been awarded the Nobel prize for chemistry for 1930. He joins the group of world leaders of science, writing and politics who have already been presented with the awards.

SEINE TO REACH CREST ON SUNDAY

PARIS, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The level of the Seine river remained at 17 feet, 5 inches, throughout the day, neither rising nor falling despite continued rains.

Meteorological experts and river officials expressed the opinion that there would be no change until Saturday when floods from the Marne and Grand Morin rivers, passing through Paris, would probably cause a rise of from 20 to 25 inches.

"A critical situation must be met Sunday," the newspaper L'Intransigent said today.

Meanwhile the water continued to filter into cellars, but no heavy damage was reported in Paris.

Corbell, Viry-Châtillon and Juvisy, which for the past three days have been centers of anxiety, reported the Seine at a standstill or receding.

At Antwerp, Belgium, however, there was a serious aftermath. Thrifty peasants, rather than pay a penny a bucket for pure drinking water from official tanks, were drinking the foul water from their normal supply.

Others were moving back into their soaking, crumbling homes before the health authorities could disinfect them.

Rheumatic Sufferers Helped By This Doctor's Prescription

Some years ago there was a well-known doctor who had a large number of patients whom he treated for rheumatic troubles. This good doctor was usually successful in bringing them relief and used one particular prescription that today has come into almost universal use as Prescription C-2223.

This effective formula was first compounded on the theory that rheumatism, neuralgia, gout and sciatica are caused by the accumulation of poisonous acids and waste matter in the system. Time alone has proved that this good doctor knew what he was doing, for thousands who suffered the torment of stiff joints and aching muscles now enjoy new freedom and happiness because of the regular use of this well-known prescription. C-2223 enlists the help of Nature in overcoming rheumatic aches and pains . . . it neutralizes acids in the system and eliminates accumulated waste matter . . . often bringing results that are considered astonishing.

All prescription drug stores have on hand generous size bottles of this famous Prescription C-2223 and will now sell it to you on an absolute money-back guarantee. If you fail to get relief after taking C-2223 as directed, return the bottle to drugstore from whom you bought it and get your money back.—(adv.)

Standard Oil was first to make
SERVICE STATIONS of its filling stations

It takes quality gasoline to make the motor go, quality oil to make it run smoothly; but it also takes water to keep the engine cool, and air in the tires to ease the ride . . . The Standard Oil Company (pioneer in service) was first to anticipate this four-fold need for making motoring more enjoyable, and many years ago converted its filling stations into service stations, with convenient rest rooms, telephones, road maps, etc.

INDIA'S CONSTITUTION NEEDS ARE OUTLINED

Sir John Simon Says No "Hand-Me-Down" Will Do.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—No "hand-me-down" constitution tried out by other nations will fit India in the opinion of Sir John Simon, head of the Simon Commission on India, who addressed the English-speaking union Thanksgiving luncheon attended by many prominent members of the American colony today.

"What is needed is not a general phrase," he said, "but a detailed plan, which faces indisputable facts."

These facts he described as differences in caste religion, illiteracy among the rural population and the "constant menace against the northwest frontier" possible invasion.

"But nothing must be allowed to invalidate the pledge of the British people for the progressive realization of responsible government in India," he added.

Sir John also saw danger in "too precise a definition" of the standing of other members of the British commonwealth. "It may even be a club to curb growth," he said. The commonwealth of nations idea he pictured as modern Britain's contribution to the science of government.

SING SING THEATER CLOSED BY WARDEN

OSSENING, N. Y., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Notwithstanding what Shakespeare may have said, the play is not the thing at Sing Sing prison this year. Warden Laves today announced that for the first time in a decade there would be no theatrical performance permitted inside the prison this year. He gave no explanation.

Peterson's Ointment Healed Sore 18 Years Old

It seems rather a sweeping statement but Peterson's can back up the just claims of its powerfully healing and soothing Ointment with grateful letters from people who have been benefited.

Even one application takes out the soreness, starts to heal, discharge comes—it instantly relieves piles, bruises, insect bites, chafed and itching skin—it banishes pimples, blackheads and freckles in a few days.

One 35-cent box proves it—all drug stores.

Robert Phillips of New Salem, Ind., writes: "For 18 years I had an old fever sore on my ankle. I spent hundreds of dollars on it and found no relief. I saw you ad and tried Peterson's Ointment—it gave me ease and enabled me to sleep for first time in 7 weeks. I kept using it and now my leg is sound and well, thanks to you."—(adv.)

DARK SKINS Brightened

You can now have the exact shade of lovely light complexion you want. Quaker Skin Whitener ointment makes dark, sallow skin into lovely, clear lightness. If you don't want your skin to be very light, use only once in a while. If you are not light enough, use more often. When you find your skin the color you want, just remember how much you used. That's all—and you will always have that clear light loveliness. Send 50 cents in stamps for the complete treatment of moist skin and skin whitener.

Baby Girl Struck in Knee By Bullet When Gun Falls

EVELYN CAUSEY.

Three-year-old Evelyn Causey is in the Grady hospital with a flesh wound in the thigh while her mother, Mrs. Catherine Causey, is at home recovering from the effects of the same bullet. The mother was shot through the right leg.

The mother and child went to the hospital early Thursday morning. Mrs. Causey reported that while she and the baby were romping on the floor of their home a pistol falling from a near-by table was discharged accidentally, the bullet passing through the child's leg and striking the mother's foot. The condition of neither is serious, physicians said.

Little Evelyn was standing between her father's knees when the gun was knocked from the table, the child's father told Grady hospital attaches. Detectives assigned to the shooting reported it appeared to have been an accident and police said they would not make any further investigation.

Washington Passes Quiet Holiday; Plymouth Recalls Old Memories

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Official Washington spent a quiet Thanksgiving at home today while a chilling wind swept through capital streets.

A turkey dinner at the White House, attended by a few friends, brought the day to a close for President Hoover after touching up his annual message to congress and going to church in the morning.

Mrs. Hoover and Allan, the latter home from Harvard for the holidays, however, had a box at the annual navy relief ball tonight which attracted many of Washington's dignitaries and social leaders.

Vice President Curtis and members of President Hoover's cabinet who remained in the city devoted themselves to family parties. Several cabinet members, however, spent the holiday with friends.

Rising early, President Hoover enjoyed his daily medicine ball game on the south lawn of the White House despite the sub-freezing temperature. Then he went to his study and looked over his congressional message, which is virtually complete.

At 11 o'clock the president, accompanied by Mrs. Hoover, Allan, Mrs. Edgar Rickard, of New York, and her daughter, Peggy, and Mrs. Stark McMullen, of Palo Alto, Cal., attended the Central Presbyterian church and sat in Woodrow Wilson's pew. The pastor, Rev. Dr. James H. Taylor, included in his sermon the president's Thanksgiving proclamation.

After the services Mr. Hoover laid the cornerstone for a new Sunday school building. A biting north wind was blowing and before the ceremony was over the president plainly showed that he was chilled. He used the same towel with which President Wilson had laid the cornerstone for the church in 1913.

Mr. Rickard and his wife and daughter, old friends of the Hoovers, were guests at the White House tonight for the turkey and trimmings that ranged from cranberry sauce to pumpkin pie.

Vice President Curtis had his two small grandchildren, Ann and Curtis George, at his Thanksgiving party, presided over by the vice president's sister, Mrs. Dolly Gann.

HOLIDAY STIRS OLD MEMORIES AT PLYMOUTH

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Old memories were stirred today in Plymouth—memories of a bygone Thanksgiving, three centuries ago.

Observance of Thanksgiving in this oldest town of New England, settlement of the Pilgrims, some of the first giving of thanks, follows the same simple routine year by year.

Feeling church bells on the frosty mountain air summoned the townsfolk to worship.

Afterwards came the traditional feasting when anyone passing down a residential street enjoyed fleeting scents of savory, roasting turkey—and all that went with it.

In the Old Colony Club there was the customary banquet. But beside each plate, as for many a year past, reposed a grain reminder—a few kernels of parched corn. These hard, dry kernels recalled the bitter privation and hunger that attended the Pilgrims' first year in Plymouth. Such frugal fare in those days kept the spark of life burning in the breasts of resolute pioneers.

Plymouth, today, is a modern town, with mills and stores and toilers, 14,000 souls in all. So, in place of the crude sports that brought friendly Indian and Pilgrim together in contest 300 years ago, modern Plymouth had a football game in the afternoon between a high school and a town team.

And then, when night crept in from the gray Atlantic and lights began to twinkle on the slopes of Burial Hill, there came the final event of the day, the annual Thanksgiving ball in Memorial hall—a public ball for such of the townsfolk who care to attend—and the ball is always crowded.

Some of those who remained away from the glare of the ball wandered toward the lonely canopy over Plymouth.

VICTIMS OF AUTOS STILL CRITICAL

Two men knocked down by automobiles Wednesday night, still were reported in a critical condition at Grady hospital Thursday though the condition of each was reported by physicians to be improved slightly. Both men have fractured skulls.

Hoyt Tucker, 33, of Campbellton road, was knocked down by a car driven by Howard Tucker, of Ben Hill, on Campbellton road. The men are no relation. The injured Tucker was brought to the hospital by Howard Tucker.

The other man is Charles Langston, of Center Hill, who was the victim of a hit-and-run driver Wednesday night as he was crossing the street near his home. Witnesses said the auto which hit Mr. Langston was traveling at a fast rate of speed and did not even slow up after striking him, police said.

How Doctors Treat Colds and Coughs

Medical writer agree that the important point in the treatment of a cold, or cough due to a cold, is to relieve the congestion in the nose and throat, thereby preventing serious complications which may follow a neglected cold. To stop this congestion Calotabs was the accepted and standard remedy until Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablet, was introduced.

Now that science has robbed calomel of its nausea and danger, making it pleasant to take and perfectly safe for general use, over forty million Calotabs are consumed in the U. S. yearly with only the most pleasant and satisfactory results. In millions of homes Calotabs have proven their superiority in the prompt relief of colds and coughs due to colds.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of sweet milk or water. No salts necessary. No nausea. No the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning the congestion has subsided, your cold or cough is relieved, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish—no danger.

Get a family package of Calotabs, containing full directions, only three-fifths cents. Trial size, ten cents. At any drug store.—(adv.)

Gov. Roosevelt Announces $500,000 Drive for Resort

New York Executive Outlines Plans for Program of Expansion at Warm Springs.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 27.—Plans for development of the Warm Springs health resort which will almost double facilities here were outlined tonight by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt at the annual Thanksgiving dinner in his honor.

Governor Roosevelt said that the $500,000 subscription fund now being raised would be spent in a program of expansion that will enable several hundred more patients to receive treatment here.

While definite details are yet to be worked out, the governor said that the endowment fund will provide construction of several new buildings and all-around improvements.

Explaining the work that has been accomplished by the resort he founded in 1927, Governor Roosevelt also announced that the foundation is not only out of debt, but it now owns $600,000 in property and assets.

Two hundred and fifty guests, including Warm Springs residents, Mrs. Roosevelt, Edward J. Flynn, secretary of state of New York, and Mrs. Flynn, attended the dinner.

Brief addresses were also made by Arthur Carpenter, business manager of the foundation; Fred Bolts, assistant manager, and Dr. Leroy Hubbard.

Mr. Carpenter expressed appreciation of Governor Roosevelt's interest in the resort. He said that the governor's plan for the foundation's program, a pause was ordered in the broadening program of WSB, Atlanta, to pay tribute to the governor.

The station said it was "happy to salute Governor Roosevelt on his signal achievement for America and the democratic party."

The dinner marked the fourth Thanksgiving that the New York chief executive has been honored here. There would have been present at the first dinner in 1927.

Tonight's informal affair was held in the old Warm Springs Inn, where travelers rested many years ago in their "coach and four" trips across the state.

Saturday night, Governor Roosevelt will be the guest of the Atlanta Association of Building Owners and Managers at a possum dinner. Invitations to the affair have been extended to a number of prominent New Yorkers and Georgians.

DEATH PENALTY ASKED FOR WESTBERRY YOUTH

Motion To Strike Alleged Confession From Record Denied.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Nov. 27.—The death penalty for Austin Westberry, charged with the murder of W. H. Browning, was demanded by Solicitor General C. C. Spurlin in opening the argument for the state Thursday morning.

Colonel J. B. Copeland, for the defense, opened the day with a motion to strike from the record all of the alleged confessions and testimony of witnesses relating to the confessions. He gave as grounds for the motion the contention of the defense that the alleged confessions were not voluntarily made by the defendant.

The state objected, contending that the testimony showed that no compulsion was used in obtaining the confessions. The motion was overruled.

Solicitor General Spurlin opened for the state, demanding the death penalty for the youth, who is one of five indicted in connection with the case.

The solicitor spoke for two hours and 15 minutes and was followed by Colonel O. H. Dukes for the defense, who spoke for two hours.

Colonel E. K. Wilcox, also for the defense, addressed the jury, continuing until the court recessed until Friday morning.

SPECIAL SERVICES HELD BY C. M. E.
COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 27.—With more than 200 ministers and lay delegates, and hundreds turned away from the conference for lack of room, the C. M. E. conference delegates held both a regular and Thanksgiving session of the conference Thursday morning.

The Rev. S. A. Dyer, of the Manchester, and L. J. Pierce, of the Cordele districts, and the following pastors made their reports: G. E. Edwards, Hogansville; B. B. Bore, of J. F. Leonard, Woodbury; M. A. Griffin, Columbus; A. Mullin, Atlanta; R. M. Moore, Americus; T. C. Cunningham, Cordele; B. Dyer, of A. P. Dunbar, Andalusia; M. L. Barkley, Elko; W. T. Mackey, LaGrange; G. C. Caulton, Cusseta; F. Bishop, Fort Valley, and D. C. Griffin, Waverly Hall.

The Thanksgiving sermon was preached by Dr. H. L. Stallworth, Columbus.

Speakers included the Revs. M. H. Rutherford, Thomaston, and Professors W. A. Bell, Atlanta; S. A. Dyer, Columbus; R. B. Bore, of J. F. Leonard, Woodbury; M. A. Griffin, Columbus; A. Mullin, Atlanta; R. M. Moore, Americus; T. C. Cunningham, Cordele; B. Dyer, of A. P. Dunbar, Andalusia; M. L. Barkley, Elko; W. T. Mackey, LaGrange; G. C. Caulton, Cusseta; F. Bishop, Fort Valley, and D. C. Griffin, Waverly Hall.

The conference will vote Friday or Saturday upon the constitutional questions sent down to the 38 annual conferences in the United States being held this season. The questions were voted upon in the general conference in Louisville, Ky., in May of this year.

CONGRESSMAN QUAYLE DIES AT AGE OF 62
NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Congressman John Francis Quayle, democrat, of the seventh New York district, died suddenly at a hospital today. He was 62 years old.

The congressman, a native born New Yorker, was first elected to the sixty-eighth congress and was three times subsequently chosen to represent the seventh district, which is in King's county.

Representative Quayle was operated upon for stomach trouble about two years ago, friends said today, and physicians ascribed his death to a recurrence of that trouble. Death occurred at 9 o'clock this morning.

Surviving the congressman are his widow and three children—John, Jr., William and Katherine Brennan.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Charles Wesley Brazel, 66, former coal operator of Pittsburgh, Pa., died in a hospital here today after a brief illness.

Everyone Should Feel Thankful, Says Quimby Melton, of Griffin

GRiffin, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Quimby Melton in his column, "Good Evening," published in the Griffin Daily News, today observed that everyone has something for which they can be thankful this Thanksgiving Day.

His comment was: "All of us have something for which we may be thankful today. We may have to dig down into the clouds to find the silver lining, but it is there just the same."

"If any have lost a loved one they can be thankful that our Saviour has told us there is a great hereafter where there will be no parting."

Special Program Is Held at Annual Conference in Waycross.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Nov. 27.—Thanksgiving Day exercises were held by the A. M. E. conference here Thursday with Bishop W. A. Fountain presiding.

The conference Bible institute work featured the morning session, conducted by President W. A. Fountain, Jr., and Dean S. H. Giles, of Turner Theological Seminary, Drs. C. A. Wingfield and R. J. Jefferson.

Thursday's program was as follows: Song, Dr. B. G. Dawson, Big Bethel, Atlanta; prayer by Dr. T. J. Davis, Gaines chapel, Savannah; scripture, Dr. A. B. Cooper, president Edward Waters College, Jacksonville, Fla.; reading of the origin of Thanksgiving, Dean S. H. Giles, of Turner Theological Seminary, Atlanta.

Dr. D. W. Stephens, Bethel church, Savannah, spoke on Christian America. The presiding elder districts and pastoral charges made final reports here Thursday.

The missionary anniversary was observed Thursday night under the auspices of the conference Branch Missionary Society, Cordele. The conference missionary report was read by the Rev. J. F. Duhart, Mrs. W. A. Fountain, connectional treasurer of the missionary department of the church and general superintendent of the missionary activities of women's work in the state, spoke on the home and foreign field work of the church. The missionary sermon was delivered by Dr. C. P. Hobbs, of St. Paul, Brunswick.

The Somerset is due in Savannah early Friday.

Sheriff To Probe Death Of McIntosh Countian

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP) Sheriff Poppell said Thursday he would try to blow a safe in Freeman Brothers' store at Blount, Ga., to investigate the death of W. R. Robson, a McIntosh county farmer who died suddenly November 6 on the road.

The sheriff said that several months ago Robson told him that if he died suddenly he wanted his death investigated. The sheriff said he would carry out the request.

SERIES OF ROBBERIES INVESTIGATED IN MACON MACON, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Three Macon men who officers say were caught trying to blow a safe in Freeman Brothers' store at Blount, Ga., Monday county, were in the city hall police barracks Thursday night, while police conducted an investigation to determine if they are responsible for other safe blowings in this vicinity during the last few weeks.

The police suspect that they forced an entrance to a county supply house at Cross Keys Monday night, and stole quantities of dynamite. In fact Chief Watkins declared that he was convinced that the nitroglycerine found in their possession when arrested was taken from the dynamite stolen here.

The men are booked as Jack Lynch, Jack Miller and Tony Francis. Lynch, described as a notorious safecracker, has been convicted of engineering a job in Milledgeville that is said to have netted him $1,000. Lynch was recently released from federal prison after completing a term for violating the prohibition law.

A burglar alarm attached to a cash register in the Freeman store led to the capture of the three men. They were caught off guard, and, surrounding the place, they reported to officers that they caught the men in the act of preparing to blow open the safe. The lookout fled.

Sheriff L. C. Bittick, of Forsyth, rushed to the scene when notified of the catch. Before he arrived Miller made a break to get away. He was shot by one of his captors with a shot of bluish from a shotgun. Miller is said to be seriously wounded.

206 ACRES OFFERED FOR SOLDIERS' HOME JACKSON, Ga., Nov. 27.—Dr. Benjamin F. Watkins, an active member of the Lee-Roosevelt camp No. 6, Spanish-American War Veterans, department of Georgia, has offered to donate a tract of 206 acres of land situated on the paved highway from Jackson to Indian Springs, as a site for the national soldiers' and sailors' home to be located somewhere in the southeast.

The offer has been communicated to officers of the national organization and the only stipulation is that the home be located in or near Atlanta.

The site is located two miles from Jackson.

The land is well watered with two good springs and has a supply of timber.

MINISTERS TO MEET AT CAMILLA TUESDAY CAMILLA, Ga., Nov. 27.—The annual meeting of the Southwest Georgia Baptist "Ministers' Association will be held in Camilla next Tuesday at the Baptist church and the chief feature of the program will be an address by Dr. Len G. Broughton, of Atlanta.

QUITMAN D. A. R. PLANS SCHOLARSHIP FUND

New Loan Fund To Be Founded in Honor of Nonnie McCall.

QUITMAN, Ga., Nov. 27.—In addition to its present scholarship loan fund of $1,000, the Daughters of the Confederacy chapter here has decided to found the Nonnie McCall scholarship fund in honor of Miss McCall, who was scholarship loan chairman for a long time and greatly interested in this work of the chapter. This fund will be completed this year and will be used only to help students of Quitman High school take a business course.

At the chapter meeting this week the delegate to the state convention, Mrs. Tidwell, made a convention report and presented the state trophy the chapter won, a picture of General Lee presented by the Old Soldiers' home to the chapter doing the most outstanding work of the past year for the veterans. This trophy highly prized by the chapter will be hung in the new grammar school library.

A chairman will be appointed to investigate suitable books to be added to the U. D. C. bookshelf in the public library. "The Sage of Liberty Hall" and a "Life of Raphael Semmes" have been ordered and the chapter is also buying some reference books for the new grammar school library.

Thanksgiving was observed by sending baskets to veterans and widows of veterans in the county and to the inmates at the county farm. The chapter also sent a barrel of Brooks county cane syrup to the Soldiers' home in Atlanta.

Following the business session Mrs. B. L. Weston read a paper on the "Old Heard House" and Mrs. Tennell presented members with pictures of this historic shrine.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY CHARGED TO 3 MEN FORTSMYTH, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Sheriff Carey Bittick said Thursday that three men were in jail charged with the attempted burglary of Freeman Brothers' store at Blount, near here.

The sheriff said the men were booked as Jack Lynch, Jack Miller and Tony Francis and gave their residence as Macon.

Sheriff Bittick reported that the men were captured by Gordon Freeman and neighbors, whom he assisted when a home-made burglar alarm sounded in the Freeman home a half mile away about midnight last night, being turned over to himself and placed in jail.

One of the men, who gave his name as Miller, the sheriff said, was wounded when he attempted to flee.

MIDNIGHT ELECTION OCCURS WEDNESDAY McDONOUGH, Ga., Nov. 27.—The city election will be held here next Wednesday. A mayor, marshal and six councilmen will be chosen at this time. The incumbents are: J. O. Tarpley, mayor; H. C. Hightower, D. P. Cook, J. S. Rodgers, W. B. Pullin, T. A. Sloan, Jr., J. J. Greer, aldermen, and C. J. Dickson is marshal.

HELP BRING BACK PROSPERITY!

The difference between prosperity and depression is only 20 per cent. Manufacturing operations and trade right now are that close to very good times. But that extra fifth is important. If we had it, what an addition would be made to human happiness by reducing unemployment!

What can be done about it?

A whole lot! A 20 per cent reduction in production and trade means that much reduction in employment in many lines. But the other 80 per cent are at work and receiving about the same incomes as they were a year ago.

It's a perfectly simple proposition.

If those whose incomes are coming in steadily will increase their expenditures up to what they were a year ago, unemployment will cease to be a problem. And for most of us that will only be bringing the outgo up to normal.

Every individual who has an income nearly as large as a year ago can help bring back prosperity by buying again at the normal rate.

Are You Doing Your Part to Bring Back Prosperity?

Come on ATLANTA! Let's Go!

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

WELCOME PLANNED
FOR DR. EDMONDSONMartha Brown Church Will Hold Jubilee Service
Sunday.

A jubilee celebration marking the return of Dr. H. L. Edmondson, leading pastor of the North Georgia Methodist conference, to Atlanta has been planned by members of the Martha Brown Memorial church for 11 o'clock Sunday morning. It was announced Thursday.

Dr. Edmondson has held several prominent posts in Atlanta previously and is a former presiding elder of the Elberton district. He and his family are at home at the parsonage, 1250 Metropolitan avenue.

Following are the new officers of the church:

George J. Long, chairman; E. M. Hall, vice chairman; Charles J. G. Cates, secretary; Martin M. Minor, treasurer, and C. O. Johnson, lay leader.

Stewards: Charles E. Clarke, John Faith, Jr., E. J. Fincher, H. H. Freeman, P. H. Ginn, E. B. Goch, Jake E. Hall, W. T. Hawkins, S. Jackson, George B. Lyle, D. P. Martin, M. L. Minor, J. C. Moore, E. A. McDonald, F. H. Russell, C. L. Shimp, J. E. Shumate, C. D. Smith, J. E. Stott, P. E. Williams, Dr. J. S. Wilson, Dr. A. H. Wilson.

Honorary Stewards: L. F. Bowden, O. B. Dukes.

Pianist and music director, Miss Lillian Everett.

Trustees: Dr. E. F. Fincher, chairman; L. L. Martin, E. A. Minor, J. F. Brown, J. S. McWilliams, L. F. Bowden, L. J. Kennedy, George J. Long and George B. Lyle.

Sunday school superintendent, W. F. Jones; C. O. Johnson, assistant superintendent.

LET STATES RUN OWN RIVER-WILBUR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Control of water power developments primarily by the states was urged today by Secretary Wilbur to end confusing duplication of authority with the federal power commission.

In his role of chairman of the power commission, the interior secretary said state and federal agencies should find a basis whereby they may supplement each other or elements of conflict might impede desirable development.

He advocated such co-ordination as the administrative policy of the commission in his annual report, which cited complaints from the states that the government was encroaching upon their rights, with resultant snarls in jurisdictional questions.

"The government has the principal obligation in safeguarding the interests of navigation and federal properties as may be affected by water-power projects, but in other respects control is largely a matter of state interest," Wilbur explained.

Hope for assistance in relieving the unemployed through power projects was expressed in the report, which called attention to authorizations for $70,000,000 in construction, which Wilbur expected to be started immediately.

SCOTLAND YARD SOLVES MURDER

NORTHAMPTON, England, Nov. 27.—(AP)—A rum little traveling salesman by the name of Arthur Rouse has become the center of England's "torch murder mystery" which for a long time baffled Scotland Yard.

He is charged with the murder of an unidentified man whose charred body was found in an automobile which had been soaked with gasoline and set afire on a lonely road near here three weeks ago. The police say he committed the crime hoping that the body would be mistaken for his own and he could slip out of extramarital complications in which he had become involved.

Detectives said they had discovered that Rouse, although married, had run himself into debt through his attentions to women other than his wife.

He went on trial today.

Shortly after the discovery of his crime, Scotland Yard performed one of those detective story miracles by "reconstructing" the murder victim from a tiny wad of charred clothing; the prosecution said. Rouse was found at the home of one of his women friends at Cardiff.

2 DIE IN CRASHES AT JACKSONVILLE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and seven injured as a result of automobile accidents here last night and today.

A youth, known only as James, and believed to live in Port Arthur, Texas, was killed last night when a truck, in which he had picked up a ride, overturned near the city. Four others were injured in this accident, one seriously.

M. J. Cunningham, Jacksonville, died in a hospital after being struck by an automobile on the street last night. J. W. McCuen, driver of the car, took the injured man to the hospital. He will be given a hearing before a justice of the peace.

MISSISSIPPI INSANE HOSPITAL BURNS

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 27.—(AP)—One negro was burned to death and 15 other inmates escaped when fire early today destroyed the three-story negro ward of the state insane hospital, Superintendent C. D. Mitchell announced tonight following an investigation of the fire.

Superintendent Mitchell said he had not been able to ascertain the cause of the blaze which ate its way through the 40-year-old structure which housed 330 negro patients. Defective wiring was believed responsible.

The escape of the 15 patients was not discovered until after hospital attaches made a check today of the inmates.

The charred body of one patient was found on the third floor of the building.

Standard Club Gives Brilliant Thanksgiving Dinner-Dance

Celebrating Thanksgiving at its formal opening of the winter season the Standard Club entertained at a brilliant dinner-dance Wednesday evening at the handsome clubhouse on Ponce de Leon avenue. A number of prominent visitors, who are in the city for the Thanksgiving holidays, were central figures in dinner parties given by members of the club. The attractively appointed tables at which congenial groups were seated were decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums, the favors, place cards and other appointments featuring the Thanksgiving idea. Throughout the ballroom yellow and white chrysanthemums were lavishly used in the decorations with palms, smilax and green foliage plants forming the background.

A group dining together were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neely, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur I. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Moss and Mr. and Mrs. William T. Rich. Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Selig, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Fox, Mr. and Mrs. E. Horowitz, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Regenstein, Mr. and Mrs. A. Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Rosenfeld, Mr. and Mrs. Vol. Blackman and Mrs. A. E. Marcus occupied a table together. Mr. and Mrs. M. Solomon and Mr. and Mrs. J. Weinstein were together. Miss Alene Fox, Miss Hess, Miss Rachel Neely, Edgar Lieberman and Henry W. Davis dined together.

History Study Club Holds Meeting

History Study Club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mildred Cooper on Clifton road with Mrs. Landin Kay, president, in the chair. A paper on the industries of the United States was prepared by Mrs. R. G. Sawyer, who read an interesting article on the salvaging of waste material which one of the large manufacturing of the country engages in to the extent of several million dollars annually. Mrs. Meyer had as her current event topic "The Pulitzer Prize," giving a short biography of Mr. Pulitzer, the donor, and describing the various phases of the awards. The club welcomed Mrs. Johnnie Aiken, who has recently been ill. Mesdames A. B. Carter, J. E. McCannan and Miss Bertha Pitter were guests. Members present were Mesdames Landin Kay, Albert Jones, Earl Meekes, John Parker, Herbert Tarrant, Johnnie Aiken, T. O. Fowler, L. A. Moyer, R. G. Sawyer, L. H. Miss House Weds Julian V. Jones In Douglasville

DOUGLASVILLE, Ga., Nov. 27.—The marriage of Miss Winnie Belle House, daughter of J. W. House, and Julian Vender Jones, of Fairburn, was solemnized at 10 o'clock this morning at the home of the bride, Rev. Willis M. Jones, pastor of Stewart Avenue Methodist church of Atlanta, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives and close friends.

The lower floor of the home was beautifully decorated with ferns and chrysanthemums. The guests were received by Mrs. Floyd House, sister of the bride. She wore a becoming fall model of brown crepe and a shoulder bouquet of sweetheart roses.

The wedding party entered to the strains of the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" played by Miss Marie Price. During the ceremony Miss Price played "Hearts and Flowers." She was gowned in green crepe with hat to match and her shoulder bouquet of Ophelia roses and valley lilies.

Miss Nan Kirby acted as maid of honor and was first to enter. She was becomingly attired in a gown of burgundy chiffon with a metal cloth hat. She wore a shoulder spray of Ophelia roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Jack Stephenson, sister of the bride, acted as matron of honor and wore black crepe with hat to match and a shoulder bouquet of Ophelia roses and valley lilies.

The groom entered with his best man, Frank Etrekin, of Atlanta. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of royal blue chiffon. Her hat was a model of gold lace and her flowers were a corsage of brides' roses and valley lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones left for a short wedding trip. Mrs. Jones wore a black and white ensemble with accessories to match. On their return they will be at home at 1745 South Gordon street, S. W., Atlanta.

Cerulean, Ky.—"About ten years ago, I learned of Black-Draught and the benefits others had gotten from using it, and, needing a good laxative, I decided to try it," writes Mrs. W. M. Poindexter, of this place.

"I had been feeling dull and stupid from biliousness, and after I had taken Black-Draught I thought I felt one hundred per cent better."

"Black-Draught relieves a headache very quickly. I have also taken it for indigestion and colds, and always felt much better after taking it. I think it is a splendid medicine."

Thedford's Black-Draught is composed of pure botanical ingredients, and contains no chemicals. The roots and herbs of which it is made are finely powdered, which enables the digestive juices of the stomach to extract its medicinal properties in an easy, natural way.

This medicine has been in use since 1835, with constantly increasing popularity because of the good it has done to the men, women and children who have taken it.

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT For Constipation, Indigestion, Biliousness

FORT McPHERSON, Ga., Nov. 27.—The drag hunt to be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow at the garrison center interest of both military and civilian social contingents, for a number of both social circles will follow the hounds when the hunt gets under way. With the master of the hunt of Fort Benning, Captain J. L. Wood, in charge and a quartet of excellent riders and sportsmen, Major Paul Penabody, Mrs. Andrew Knight, Mrs. Will Hogue and Lieutenant Jake Moon will act as whips. The hounds, some 20 in number, were brought up from the infantry school Wednesday and will be in excellent condition for the run tomorrow. Riders are requested to meet in front of the commanding officer's quarters promptly at the appointed time. Those who prefer may follow the hunt in cars and a guide will meet them and direct them to several appointed spots where a good view of pack and riders may be obtained.

Following the hunt the riders and gallery will be the guests at tea of Major General Frank Ross McCoy and Mrs. McCoy.

Thanksgiving Day was observed at the garrison by observing holiday hours, by a service in the post chapel at dinner for the men. The officers and their families formed congenial groups at the messes of the regiment to partake of the Thanksgiving dinner with the soldiers or dined at the quarters on the row. Colonel Christian A. Bach and Mrs. Bach entertained at dinner at their quarters.

Mrs. J. J. Harris Is Honored By Atlanta U. D. C.

Mrs. J. J. Harris, of Sandersville, president Georgia division U. D. C., was honor guest at the meeting of the Atlanta Chapter U. D. C. Tuesday afternoon held at the chapter house at Juniper and Sixth streets.

With Mrs. Warren D. White, president, presiding, Mrs. Harris spoke of the general U. D. C. convention recently held in Asheville, N. C., and reports were given by Mrs. Charles Love, chairman portraits in schools; Miss Anna Bennett, relief worker, and Mrs. John A. Perdue, Atlanta chapter museum.

Certificates of membership were presented to Mesdames W. Ott Alston, Virley Baum, William H. Mills, J. C. Sheehan, Burnham S. Marsh and Miss Anna Moore Baum; the speech of presentation to each new member being made by Mesdames Martin D. White, J. J. Harris, John A. Perdue, Moreland Spear, Forrest Kibler and Miss Alice Baxter.

Miss Marianne McClelland, leader of the Atlanta chapter history class, introduced Judge Ernest C. Kontz, who spoke on the "Life of General Cleburne A. Evans," reading excerpts from the concise and illuminating biographical sketch of General Evans, written by his son-in-law, Dr. R. G. Stephens. Judge Kontz brought to the audience what the life of General Evans meant to Georgia and the south, and how it related to his home broken in health from five wounds received during the four years of service in the Confederate army. Yet he gave himself freely to the work of restoring the morale of a stricken people. Personal reminiscences and portraits of General Evans brought an intimate note into the study of his life. Songs were rendered by Miss Kathleen Bowen, contralto, accompanied by Miss Ruth Hall, pianist.

Alabama, Georgia Reached Peak in Birmingham Clash--McGugin

STEADY WORK GAVE CRIMSON GLORIOUS WIN

Tide Will Doubtless Decorate Rose Bowl, Coach Affirms.

By Dan E. McGugin,
Football Coach, Vanderbilt University.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 27.—(NANA)—Alabama and Georgia, splendidly coached, reached the high crest of the season here today. Georgia, rangy and powerful, with great individual and team speed, looked like a cloud from which the lightning might strike at any moment. The game was not one of many thrills because both teams were so skilled that the individual had little opportunity to run the gauntlet of one opponent, let alone eleven, both teams having eleven men in every play.

Alabama won because of greater steadiness, greater consistency. She is a team of few mistakes. She made one, doubtless unavoidable—a fumble across the goal line which looked for a time as if it might bring tragedy. After this touchdown, Georgia, by running plays and perfectly timed passes, took the ball to Alabama's 14-yard line.

Here, in the closing moments of a glorious season, Alabama was under real danger of leaving the field defeated, and what the strain of such a moment is only players and coaches feel. Here was a great opponent 14 yards from victory. But with magnificent poise, Alabama hurled back three running plays for a net loss and on the fourth rushed the Georgia passer with such determined alertness that failure resulted.

Critical things in the game were: Alabama's recovery of a Georgia fumble in the first quarter; Georgia's brilliant forward pass in the fourth; Alabama's fumble across the goal line and from this break Alabama did not recover for some little time; Alabama's great stand on her 14-yard line and a brilliant return of a punt by Campbell in the closing moments to put the game on ice.

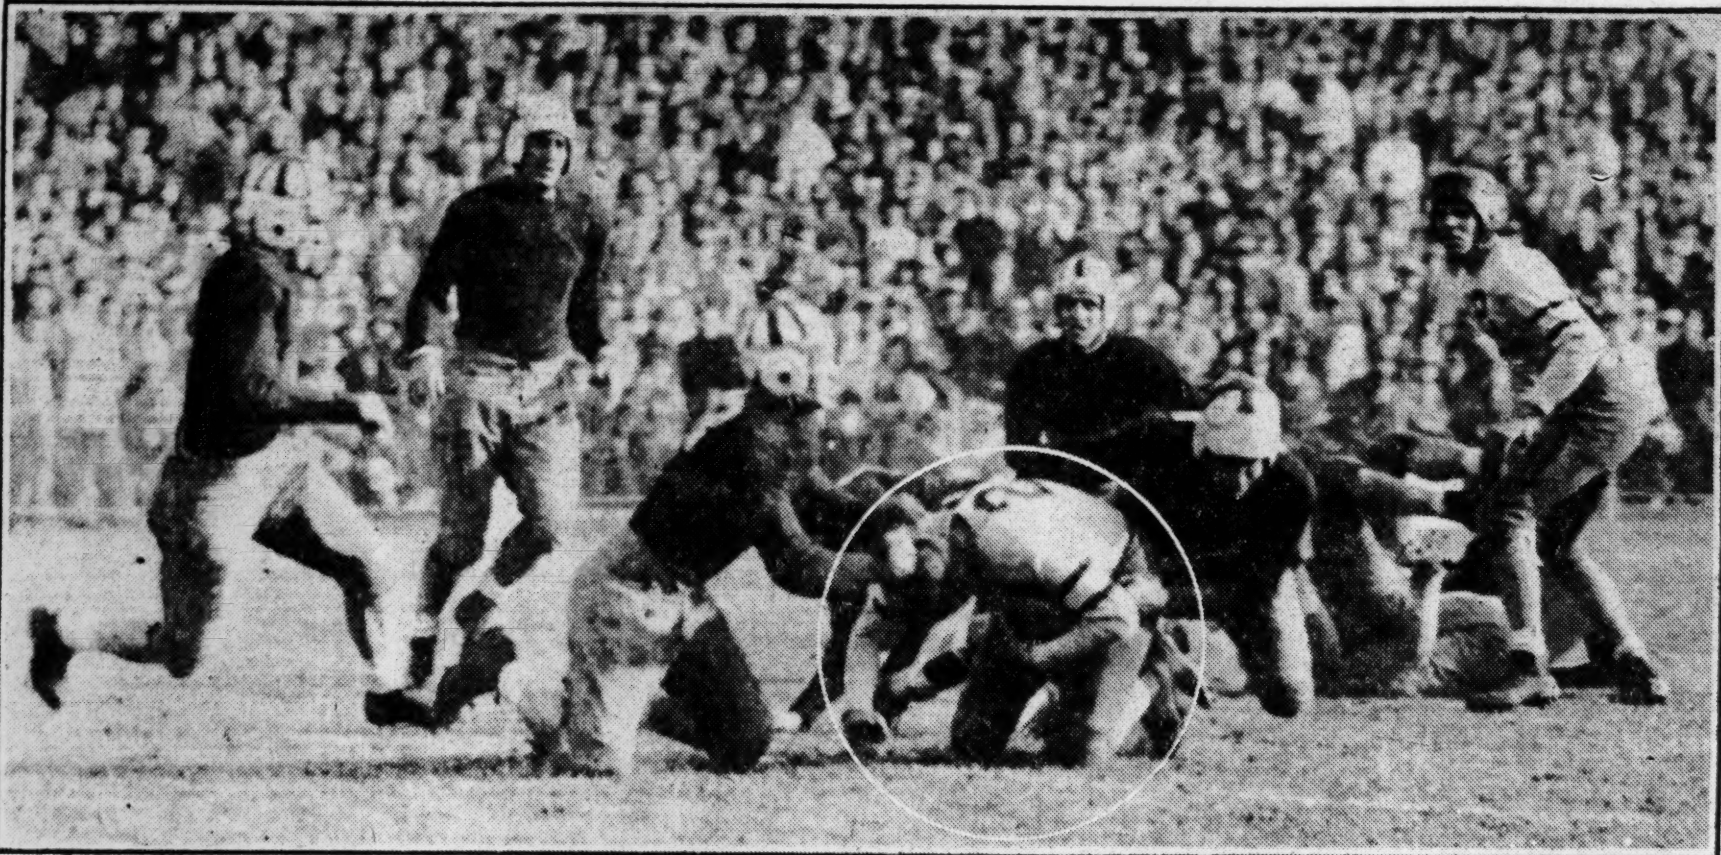

But the measure of difference between the two teams is illustrated by this: Georgia had one opportunity to score and only one failed. Alabama had three and cashed in on two and lost no time in doing so. She would doubtless have scored another had it not been for the goal line fumble because she had just masterfully earned a first down. But let no one blame the players for lack of the ball. Georgia is a tough scrapper.

And so, led by Singlet, the Beta Kappa and doubting the country's most valuable player of the season, and under the direction of Wallace Wade, the Crimson Tide will doubtless decorate the Rose Bowl. With the exception of Notre Dame, no other team has as valid a right to be chosen.

Florida got a brilliant game out of her system against Georgia Tech; North Carolina ran wild over Virginia and Auburn gained a conference victory with plenty to spare against South Carolina.

Tennessee showed her fine caliber by her victory over Kentucky, but some way I think the team that made the greatest effort and came nearest to playing up to the last measure of its capacity was T. S. U. in holding the great Tulane team to a score of 12 to 7.

Stoinoff Smashes Through Alabama Line for Georgia

Jim Stoinoff, Georgia's starting fullback, is shown being tackled by Alabama secondary after a short gain through the line. Georgia gave Alabama the hardest game of the year, but the Wade-coached eleven had enough power to score twice and halt everything the Georgians could start. Stoinoff played the early minutes of the game and then gave way to Jack (The Ripper) Roberts. The victory gave Alabama the Southern Conference championship and assures them of an invitation to the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena, Calif., New Year's day. This picture was brought to The Constitution by air mail.

Riverside Defeats Monroe Aggies, 30-6

GAINESVILLE, Ga., Nov. 27.—Using practically every player in uniform, Riverside Military Academy easily defeated Monroe Aggies, 30 to 6, here this afternoon. It was the sixth G. I. A. A. game for Riverside, four of which have been won.

After the varsity rang up several touchdowns in the early part of the game, a second team was sent in and during the remaining three quarters, various combinations were used. The playing of McLain, Causey and Goodwin was outstanding for Riverside.

Bulldog-Crimson Pictures at Fox

Moving pictures of the Georgia-Alabama game at Birmingham yesterday, which the Tide won, 13-6, were rushed into Atlanta last night and made ready for immediate showing at the Fox theater. Manager Carter Barron announced late last night.

The pictures will be shown at all performances today and Saturday.

Tarheels Swamp Cavaliers, 40-0

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., Nov. 27.—(UP)—North Carolina swamped Virginia, 40 to 0, before a shivering Thanksgiving Day crowd of 12,000 spectators here today. It was the worst beating at the hands of North Carolina in 38 years of competition between the two teams.

North Carolina scored at least once in every period, counting two touchdowns each in the third and fourth quarters. Virginia counted 10 first downs, all in midfield, to 14 for the visitors, who provided the punches for scoring chances.

A Virginia misplay in the opening period gave North Carolina the ball on Virginia's 30-yard line. Captain Nash scored the first touchdown a few plays later. Houston, a substitute back, scored two markers in a row in the final period.

North Carolina scored three extra points when Virginia was ruled offside on the post-touchdown play.

Wake Forest Downs Davidson Wildcats

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Showing a marked superiority in the passing game, Wake Forest defeated Davidson here today, 13 to 2. The Davidson Wildcats excelled in ground gaining, but were unable to cross the Demon Deacons' goal line.

GOALS, SAFETY GIVE VOLS WIN OVER WILDCATS

Tennessee Takes 8-0 Victory From Kentucky in Classic.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Two field goals and a safety gave the University of Tennessee an 8-to-0 victory over the Kentucky Wildcats in their annual Thanksgiving Day game here today before 23,000 shivering fans.

Twice Charlie Kohlase, Tennessee fullback, sailed the ball between Kentucky's goal posts with his deadly toe.

The Vols scored a safety when Kentucky's center threw wild to "Shipwreck" Kelly and the ball rolled behind the Wildcats' goal line. Kelly recovered the ball, but before he could carry it to out, Rayburn, Vol end, pounced upon him.

Tennessee threatened to score early in the first period when Allen, halfback, plunged through to Kentucky's 1-yard line. The Wildcats at no time forced Tennessee to the wall, although Kelly made numerous sweeping end runs in midfield. Urbanik was Kentucky's next best ground-gainer.

Bobby Dodd, playing his last game on the home field, furnished numerous thrills to the large crowd as he faked and flipped the ball to his mates, Buddy Hackman and Fritz Brandt. His tricky playing kept the Wildcats largely on defense throughout the game.

In the second period Hackman swept right end for 32 yards and on the next play added 20 yards more when he snatched one of Dodd's passes. The ball was on Kentucky's 5-yard line, but Tennessee failed to gain on three successive plays. Kohlase then took the ball on the 22-yard line and drop-kicked it squarely between the goal posts.

NORTHWESTERN, IRISH ALL-STARS IN SCORELESS TIE

Jack Elder and "Moon" Baker Play Well in Cold.

SOLDIER FIELD, CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Former football stars of Notre Dame and Northwestern slipped and skidded to a scoreless tie in their abbreviated charity game at Soldier field today. The game, a preliminary to the West Virginia-Oregon State game, was played under handicaps of near-zero weather and a snow-encrusted gridiron.

It was too cold and slippery to play the best football, and neither team threatened to score in the game, which was cut to 7-minute periods. Several of the big stars of other years still showed that they knew some tricks of the game, however, with beautiful kicks and long passes that were too slippery to receive.

Of the entire large collection of stars, Jack Elder, Notre Dame's star of 1929, and "Moon" Baker, of Northwestern's 1925-26 team, stole most of the honors. Baker repeatedly booted 40 to 50 yards and toward the end of the game, he had the ball placed well down in Notre Dame territory. Jack Cannon, All-American lineman for Notre Dame last year, also played well.

The Other Bullet

By Nancy Barr Maity

SYNOPSIS. Peter Piper, newspaperman, on vacation with his wife, Barbara, was sitting on the veranda of a country hotel kept by old Mr. and Mrs. Carter in the old gold-mining district of California in the Sierras, when a Mrs. Cook hurried up breathlessly, she has found a man named Mortimer shot to death in the office shack of a ranch a mile and a half distant. She must hurry back, she said, because no one else was there except a ranch hand and Mrs. Everett, adding, "I reckon she's the one that done it." Hearing an exclusive story for the Herald, Peter hurried off, taking Mrs. Cook and Carter with him and telling Mrs. Carter to send the constable.

Mrs. Cook told Peter that Everett, a construction engineer working on an irrigation dam project, did not get home more than once a month and had engaged William as ranch manager. When they reached the ranch office, Mrs. Cook around Peter's shoulders by saying she did not want to go in. He found that the manager had been shot twice, once in the neck through the jugular vein, and through the lungs. Peter replaced the two .45 caliber bullets in the door exactly where he had found them.

At the ranch house, he heard John, a housekeeper, saying Mrs. Everett of having had a gun in her hand. This story, naturally, made Peter suspicious. He approached the house. She denied John's story until Peter had pointed out a bullet hole and found a Colt automatic .45, with two chambers empty, behind several books which had been placed hastily aside down. "I killed him," she admitted then. "But before God I did not shoot him twice!"

INSTALLMENT V. When he turned, she was standing erect, shaking but composed. With a not unkindly hand on her shoulder, Peter pressed her gently into the chair, and with businesslike precision drew up another on the opposite side of the table. Between them, inert and sinister, lay the pistol.

Julio, who had watched the scene with apparent indifference, sat stolidly in the corner, his broad shoulders hunched forward, his arms folded across his chest, his heavy-lidded black eyes staring into vacancy.

"You go to my car outside, and wait there," Peter ordered. "I want to talk with Mrs. Everett alone. But don't go any farther. Carter's there to keep an eye on you, and if you try to make a break, you'll find yourself in the house in five minutes."

Julio's shoulders heaved in an immense shrug.

"I wait," he said, and without another glance at the woman in the chair, he lurched from the room.

"Now, then," Peter said briskly, turning to Mrs. Everett. "You're up against it. And it's up to you to keep your head. This is the last time for quite a while that I can assure you that whatever you say won't be used against you."

"Who—who are you?"

"Aline Everett, the woman gathering her forces. Gradually intelligence replaced the blank terror in the wide brown eyes fixed on Peter's face. "I thought I told you. I'm Peter Piper of the Herald."

"Oh! You're—"

"Yes, I'm just that—a newspaper reporter. What is life and death to you is just a story to me. Maybe that's all anything is—just a story. Maybe God is a good deal like a city editor—city editor of the Daily Universe. He doesn't make the news. He just reads the films as they come in. And once in a while he yells out to an angel: 'Boy! Tell him to give the girl a break.'"

"But why?"

Peter spread his hands helplessly, palm upward, on the table top.

"I don't know why any more than you do. But here I am. Even if I'm a reporter, I haven't quite got over being a human being. And you're just part of the story to me, but you're a human being too, in a hell of a way."

He suddenly laughed, an abrupt, embarrassed laugh. Peter prided himself on being "hard boiled," and he always joked at his own lapses into sentiment.

"Put it," he said harshly, with a change of tone which brought the brown eyes again to his face, full of attention, "that I want to stand in with you because I've stumbled on a hell of a big story, and get in on the ground floor. I can have all my lines laid before the other papers get their men on the job. And there's nothing so useful as standing in solid with the defendant before the opposition gets started. Put it that way, if you want to."

Aline Everett's brows drew together in a puzzled frown.

"You might also consider," Peter went on after a brief pause, "that you're in for a lot of publicity anyway, and it might be useful to you to have a member of the press friendly. Mind you, that doesn't mean that I won't print every single thing that tells against you. Think it over."

"I am thinking. But I don't believe I want to put it that way. It's worse than you think. And there's nobody for me to turn to—nobody. Aline's eyes dropped to the table and lingered with horrified fascination on the pistol. A violent shudder shook her from head to foot. With an effort she clenched her chattering teeth and forced her twitching muscles to be still.

"It's a nightmare! A nightmare. It couldn't have happened. I don't know how—"

The sound of heavy running footsteps checked her speech. In another instant a man had entered the room. The momentum of his entrance carried him half way across the open space before he brought himself up. He glanced briefly at Peter, dismissed him from consciousness, and riveted his gaze on Aline's face.

"Aline! What's the matter? Who are those people outside? And I saw the lights of another car coming up the driveway just as I got here."

"Max!" The single word, to Peter's ears, held a hint of infinite desolation. "When did you come?"

"Never mind that now. What's happened? Where's Marjorie?"

"Marjorie's gone. And Mr. Mortimer is dead."

The sound of a heavy knock on the door frame almost obliterated the sighing whisper of the last word. The man addressed as Max wheeled sharply, facing the door.

"What do you want?" he said, challenging the intruder with an angry stare.

"Take it easy, folks. I want a lot. I want to know what all the shooting's about."

The voice, high pitched, with a nasal drawl, preceded the entrance of a tall, preposterously lank figure, whose bony nose was the most prominent feature in his sallow face—a nose set between small gray eyes, so light that they seemed almost as colorless as water.

"Hello, Everett. I believe I've never met your lady. I'm Bill Simpson, man—county clerk and county recorder and county auditor. I'm also county sheriff, and that's what I'm being now."

Simpson's eyes traveled enquiringly to Peter, but Peter for the moment said nothing.

"I hear that Mortimer's been shot. Whose gun is that?"

With a startling change of tempo, Simpson dropped his habitual drawl. The last words came like the crack of a gun. For a moment no one moved. Aline had not risen from her chair. She sat perfectly still. Her expression was detached and remote, almost insensitive. She had passed the last limits of feeling and had reached a waste place beyond the rim of the world.

The figures in the lighted room looked curiously tiny, like men painted on a flat surface, very far off. Max turned to her with a beseeching look, but she made no response.

Peter watched the tiny globules of sweat appear on his forehead. He fog on a windshield. But his voice, when he turned to the sheriff, was composed.

"It is my gun," he said. He might have been talking in the ownership of a glove picked up in the road.

"Did you kill him?"

"Voice drawn. There was something curiously soft and sympathetic in his tone."

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION No. 35

Through the forest a loud scream echoed that awakened in the ape-man's mind many savage memories. "Bolgani!" he whispered to LA. "It is one of the great apes," she said, and shuddered. Presently they saw the fearsome creature swinging down the jungle trail toward the compound. A huge gorilla, but such a gorilla as Tarzan of the Apes had never looked on before. Of gigantic stature, the creature was walking ERECT, not even once touching his knuckles to the ground, striding with all the fearlessness and self-confidence of a jungle king.

Its head and face were a gorilla's, yet there was a difference—As Tarzan noticed when the creature came nearer. Strangest of all it wore many ornaments. Gold and diamonds sparkled against its shaggy coat. Anklets were on its legs and numerous armlets above its elbows. From a girdle about its middle there hung before and behind a long, narrow strip which seemed composed entirely of golden spangles set with small diamonds. Never, even in Opar, had John Clayton, Lord Greystoke, seen such a barbaric display of priceless finery.

Following a hideous scream from the gorilla, Tarzan saw the inmates of the compound leap to their ropes into their swinging cages. The men advanced feet. The women and children scurried up the to what the ape-man now saw was the gate of the compound. Outside the gate the gorilla halted and again raised his voice, but this time in speech. He entered the gate, the men falling back respectfully, and stood looking about. "Where are the shes and the balus?" he asked tersely, "call them—or go fetch them!"

The warriors moved about uneasily, evidently in great fear of the creature, and reluctant to fulfill his commands. At last one gathered courage to address the brute. "This village has already furnished one woman within the moon," he said, "it is the turn of another village." "SILENCE!" roared the gorilla-man, advancing threateningly toward him. "You are a rash Gomanagi to threaten the will of Bolgani. I speak with the voice of Numa, the Emperor! Obey, or die!" Trembling the black turned and summoned the women and children of the tribe. None responded to his summons.
